WE NOMINATE

Arthur Palmer Morgan, the dedicated and long-working Chairman of the Borough of Princeton's Planning Board, who -- even in the eyes of those steadfastly, or rationally or irrationally, opposed to the Borough's Master Plan -- has done a superb job of quarterbacking an intensive two-year study of the basic question: "Where does the Borough go from here?" The continuing series of public hearings on the proposed Master Plan, with the 43-year old Morgan, a lifelong resident of Princeton, bearing the brunt of the rant and cant of the assembled spokesmen, clearly indicates that the tradition of selfless volunteer service is still a vital, uplifting factor in Princeton community life.

While the impact of any Master Plan, particularly one well over a decade late in coming, is bound to be abrasive in producing controversy, and charges and counter-charges, it is difficult to challenge Morgan's and the Planning Board's reasoning in setting forth their two-part program. As Morgan stressed in an open letter to the Borough: This plan "reflects our fundamental decision that the Borough should resist the pressures for expansion and remain primarily a residential town, with facilities geared to the needs of its local residents . . . We recognize that a certain amount of growth is inevitable. But we think the most desirable and efficient way to grow is by improving what we have rather than expanding it."

To his present post as co-manager, with Leighton H. Laughlin, of the Princeton office of Clark, Dodge & Co., Inc., a position to which he was appointed early in 1966, Morgan brought some 20 years of banking and business experience. He had first joined Clark, Dodge in 1964 following 3 years as vice-president for corporate diversification of Richardson-Merrell Inc. (formerly the Vick Chemical Company) and a half-dozen years The Empire Trust Company of New York where he became a vice-president specializing in new business development and corporate loans.

The son of Sherley W. Morgan, for a quarter-century Director of Princeton University's School of Architecture, Morgan has few peers when it comes to first-hand knowledge of the Princeton Area, including the Borough, Township, contiguous municipalities and the community's institutions. Now in his fifth year as a member of the Planning Board, he is a former member of the Borough's Zoning Board, holds forth as vice-chairman of the governing board of The Princeton Day Schools, is a former trustee of the Marquand Park Foundation, and has long been an active member of the First Presbyterian Church and the YMCA.

Morgan, like the majority of his generation, interentered Princeton University with the Class of 1944 from Deerfield Academy, departed "half-way through" to become a Bombardier-Navigator with the Army Air Corps and returned to the campus in 1946 to graduate with honors in the Department of English and to pull an oar for the varsity crew. After graduation, Morgan, now the father of three daughters, joined E. R. Squibb and Sons, which subsequently was merged with the Matheson Chemical Corp., and for the next several years specialized in Latin American affairs, overseeing marketing operations in Argentina, Brazil, Cuba, Uruguay and Chile.

For urging his fellow Princetonians to think in terms of the next 20 years; for giving literally 100's of hours to an all-important, but essentially thankless, task which evokes unending rounds of highly emotional criticism; for his thoughtful and deliberate presentation of trends and phenomena that all too many want to disregard, or even "sweep under the rug;" he is our nominee as

WHY DRUGS?

The Big Question. Why do teen-agers take drugs? The answer is so complex, so interwoven with the temper of the world we live in, the structure of the individual family and the kind of human being the teenager is, that even the question seems impossible.

But Dr. William Combs, psychiatrist, gave some answers this week as the question of teens and drugs continued to trouble the Princeton community.

Dr. Combs is consulting psychiatrist for the Princeton Regional Schools and child psychiatrist at the Child Guidance Center of Mercer County. He is a young doctor with children of his own, and although he has not been directly involved with young patients who have been taking drugs, he has seen enough of Princeton to have some thoughtful answers.

The teen-agers will tell you that marijuana, the barbiturates or even LSD are not "habit-forming," but as Dr. Combs warns, "the release of tension can be so significant that it becomes the most important single thing in a youngster's life, so important that he neglects the things that could give him the sense of mastery an adolescent needs to have."

The World. Dr. Combs looks at the kind of world a Princeton teen-ager lives in. The youngster sees a youth-oriented society which pays the adolescent more attention that he really needs; he sees the problem of drugs treated in a sensational manner which seems to say "how terrible!" . . . but really says "isn't it fascinating!"

The teen-ager sees civil disobedience put to a positive social good — so he thinks any disobedience is all right. And he sees a world full of the worst kind of irresponsible behavior. Dr. Combs smilingly points out that the world has always been full of irresponsible behavior, but it has never been so visible to so many as it is today.

The Home. At home, the Princeton parent, like his counterpart in Fort Worth or Minneapolis, treats his adolescent child with a curious combination of permissiveness and lack of involvement.

"In Princeton, you get parents who actually neglect their kids, who go off to Bermuda and leave a 14-year-old boy home alone," Dr. Combs observes. "You have 13-14-year old boys and girls going around the town.

"Their parents don't know where they are, or care. If the kids are brought home drunk, the parents either laugh it off, or berate the police who brought them home."

"Neglect," Dr. Combs explains, "neglect means being unaware of what your kids are doing, not communicating with them, not setting limits."

On the other hand, parents many of whom grew up in the depression, get all mixed up with what they didn't have when they were kids, and they want to make it up to their own children, whether the 1967 child needs it or not.

"These mothers give parties for fifth-graders, dressing up little girls as though they were Barbie dolls without ever stopping to ask, 'What does this particular child need?'

And of course, in Princeton, there is unceasing academic pressure. It doesn't come from the schools particularly, Dr. Combs observes, but from parents and the teen-agers themselves.

"You'll find a good bright average boy in school with these exceptionally bright Princeton kids who catch onto everything immediately. He thinks he's dumb and no good, when he isn't at all, and to compound it, his parents keep pushing him to accomplish the impossible."

Dr. Combs says that youngsters like this, who can't quit school, often manage to get kicked out of school eventually. "Then they can say, 'Look, they did it to me.' It's a lot easier than walking into the principal's office and saying "I quit."

The Person. The individual teen-ager who turns to drugs is in a kind of passive rebellion, Dr. Combs believes.

"Adolescents in our culture are rebellious. They've got to establish their own identity and standards, and this means that for a time, they've got to abandon standards they've grown up with."

"But what does a Princeton kid have to rebel against? His parents haven't set any limits he can test, he's got plenty of money and nothing to complain about. He feels completely helpless — it's like trying to rebel against a bowl of jello."

Some youngsters will try to handle this feeling of hopelessness not by facing it down or running away, but by detaching themselves — cutting themselves off, through drugs, from that terrible anxiety and helplessness.

And yet, so wide are individual differences of personality and, indeed, of physiology, that youngsters who would seem to bear the heaviest burdens of anxiety and helplessness, the ones from homes with alcoholic parents, poverty, disruption of every kind, frequently never turn to drugs at all.

Rebellion has two sides, Dr. Combs reminds those adults who once were young. The adolescent must rebel — but he must also "belong."

The non-conforming must be conforming at the same time, and where they can conform is in their own age group. "Susceptible kids who haven't yet achieved a sense of their own identity — they can't bear to be 'chicken' or 'square' or 'out,' and so they take drugs to be 'in' with everybody else."

In Princeton, the University plays a part, Dr. Combs suggests. It adds older adolescents to the population for one thing, but it also opens the door to high-school-age fantasies about what undergraduate life must be like, without showing teenagers the reality.

The influence of the University can be a very positive one.

Dr. Combs believes. He cites the statements against drugs issued by President Robert F. Goheen as an example of limits that ought to be set.

And he adds that the adolescent is deeply grateful for these limits and guidelines because they relieve him and make him more comfortable.

Drugs Are Harmful. The harm done by drugs is a source of great concern to Dr. Combs. He is particularly disturbed by LSD, ("an extremely dangerous drug.") He points to the high percentage of people who have become psychotic after LSD, the number of people who have recurring symptons six months or a year after a single dose, and the fact that LSD taken without supervision, is a completely unknown quantity carelessly unrelated to any kind of balance with the body chemistry of the individual taking it.

And he points out that with an adolescent personality still unformed, even in normal youngsters, and possibly unstable in the case of the drug user, LSD has even more tragic potential.

With drugs like Seconal or Nembutol, Dr. Combs explains that the first tablet may take 20 to 45 minutes to take effect, depending on how much food is in the stomach, what the fatigue level is, and so on.

No effect right away? The kid takes another. Then another. At the end of the second hour, the full effect of four or five tablets suddenly hits. Everything drops: blood pressure, respiration, level of consciousness. By the time he gets to the hospital, he may well be unconscious.

More Information. Dr. Combs thinks it was unfortunate that last year's drug panel for high school youngsters wasn't followed up by continuing work with parents and teens. He would like to see a continuing flow of information on drugs and their effects.

"Involve the students," he advises, "not by lecturing to them but by giving them a chance to ask questions and express their ideas. Give them straighforward information so they can make judgements that are better informed. As it is now, they don't have the knowledge."

Dr. Combs has a curious, but comforting final word for adults: "Don't blame parents too much: it only serves to relieve teen-agers of responsibility for their own actions."

But he also adds, "The kid who's taking drugs, what he's really doing is saying 'For Pete's sake, DO SOMETHING about me!"

FIND DRUG CACHE

In Closed Sun Ray Store. During a routine investigation last week of the closed Sun Ray Drug Store in the Princeton Shopping Center, Township police uncovered a carboard box filled with legend drugs drugs "ready to go." Legend drugs can only be obtained by a doctor's prescription.

In all, there were 29 neatly-packed bottles and boxes of assorted drugs. Included in the cache was one bottle containing phenobarbital and another one containing amphetamine. There was a half-empty bottle of Cheracol which contains codeine phosphate and an alcohol base — "which can become habit forming," according to Township Detective Fred Porter.

"We feel whoever hid the box was going to sort and pick out later what they wanted," he said. The box was discovered hidden behind a partition which separates the druggists' cage from a wall.

"All the other boxes were musty and dirty. This one was clean so it had definitely been placed there," said Detective Porter. He added he believed that when the drug thefts at Sun Ray were publicly exposed, whoever hid the box dared not take a chance on going back.

Pre-Hearing Held. Meanwhile, the five youths and one girl who were arrested in the Borough last week and charged with possession of prescription drugs attended a prehearing this week in Trenton. A decision in their case may come as early as Thursday, police said.

A township youth charged with larceny and possession of drugs appeared before Judge J. Wilson Noden on Tuesday but no decision was reached.

APPLICATIONS INCREASE

For PTA Scholarships. An unusually large number of well-qualified applicants have applied for Princeton High School PTA scholarships this year, according to Mrs. C. A. Stokes, chairman of the screening committee.

The scholarships are supported by the current magazine subscription drive, the "PHS Magazine Fund," co-chaired by Mrs. Robert M. Darrow and Mrs. Heinz Heinemann. The fund has raised more than $2600 so far, Mrs. Charles H. Plummer, treasurer, reports. Last year, 13 seniors received grants totaling approximately $2550.

The scholarship project has grown steadily in number of subscribers and funds available for grants, according to the co-chairmen. This year the PHS Magazine Fund had 515 renewal customers, 143 of whom ordered more than one subscription. Mrs. H. W. Leverenz and her renewals committee sent out approximately 700 reminders between September 15 and May 3, culling a high return for their efforts.

The card parties held this year for the first time have raised $195. Mrs. Edward T. Coda is chairman.

The magazine subscription drive closes in two weeks. Interested residents are urged to contact the PTA.

BOARD EYES 60 ACRES

On Cherry Hill Road. The Princeton Regional Board of Education will ask the Township Planning Board to designate a 60-acre lot on Cherry Hill Road as "a proposed school site."

Dr. Harvey D. Rothberg said at Tuesday's meeting that the move is part of long-range planning for the schools. The land, owned by Mrs. Margaret M. Foulet, extends out Cherry Hill Road from unpaved Red Hill Road, some distance above the Unitarian Church. The same site was selected last year by the study group for a Township high school prior to school regionalization in June.

According to Board Attorney Thomas P. Cook, the designation on the Township master plan will give the school board one year in which to purchase the property should a developer or other individuals make an offer to buy. The matter goes on the Planning Board agenda for public hearing.

School Dedication Set

The John Witherspoon School on Walnut Lane will be dedicated at 11 a.m. on June 16. It is named in honor of the Rev. Dr. John Witherspoon, Colonial president of Princeton University, signer of the Declaration of Independence and Princeton civic leader.

Speakers will be Graham Rohrer, president of the Princeton Borough Board of Education for nine years who was among the school's chief planners, and Gov. Richard J. Hughes.

The year-old building designed by architect Ernest J. Kump was opened last June with full fanfare and parade by the students marching from the old Nassau and Witherspoon Schools. Dedication ceremonies will be quieter and limited to the 450 capacity of the auditorium.

About Franklin Avenue. The Township Planning Board will also have to decide on whether to close or re-route the block-long length of Franklin Avenue adjacent to Westminster Choir College. The street is closed for the school board's month-long survey of traffic flow.

"It is not a matter for the 'Establishment,' " Superintendent John McKenna said, commenting on a letter in TOWN TOPICS' Mailbox last week, written by "someone who had absolutely no concept of what is going on." He stated that the question of Franklin Avenue was settled years ago. "It will be closed. What we are interested in is what will happen to the traffic flow."

He and board members noted that the Westminster Choir College stands to gain land if the road is not re-routed, that the suggested new route may present a safety hazard to school children, that new streets, such as the extension of Guyot, have changed traffic patterns and that the board is trying to save some $40,000 in road construction costs.

The Choir College plans to build a dormitory directly across a portion of Franklin Avenue as it now exists. The replacement section would turn sharply towards the John Witherspoon School and curve along the school boundary into Walnut Lane.

Public Bus Law. Dr. McKenna reminded private and parochial school parents that July 10 is the deadline for registering children under the new busing law. To be eligible, children in kindergarten through 8th grade must live two or more miles from their school; older children must live at least two-and-a-half miles away.

Transportation request forms will be available at the Stony Brook administration building on June 1.

After meeting with administrators of the non-public schools, Dr. McKenna reported that present private and public utility transportation arrangements would be used "wherever it seemed beneficial to the Board to do so."

Asked for a cost estimate by Winthrop S. Pike of the Board, he said, "Maybe $40,000 will be the ceiling . . . Maybe the governor will be a little surprised next year when he sees the total cost."

"Not Enrichment." More than 90 children are registered for the school district's July 5-August 11 program for four-year olds.

"This is not enrichment . . . but children who need bringing up to their peers. It is not related to poverty, but to learning or development needs," Dr. McKenna said.

Sixty children will be taken into the four-year old program in the school system this fall if space is available. Enrollment will be determined by screening during the summer session. Children will be admitted if they have a major English language deficiency, are recommended by the head of an established nursery school as a child in need of the program or are recommended by local, county or state welfare agencies.

Middle School. In response to a query from Mrs. Nicholas Costa of 28 Maple Avenue, Mrs. Suzanne S. Fremon, Board president, acknowledged receipt of a letter from a former Board member, Mrs. Bernice Miller. She stated that the five-page letter was too lengthy to read, but that in substance Mrs. Miller requested the board to send junior high school students to the

"We Must All Work Together"

The drugs and narcotics situation at Princeton High School has caused the school board to plan a series of meetings with community leaders and Judge J. Wilson Noden of the Juvenile Court "as soon as possible," Mrs. Suzanne Fremon, board president, said on Tuesday.

"I personally would like to have the schools make some policy. We must all work together to understand and deal with this problem. Anybody's comments will be carefully listened to.

"On the one hand, we must try to help the children who are involved in this, and on the other hand, protect the children who are not."

Principal Kenneth Michael said at the board meeting that the situation "is more serious than in the past." He noted that the students involved are from different groups. It cuts across lines.

"It is almost impossible to know what to do about this," he went on. "I have been roundly and soundly criticized. Students should be returned to school — students should not be returned . . . Frankly, none of us know what we should be doing . . . Our teachers don't really know."

John Witherspuon School, rescinding its decision to use Valley Road and Community Park Schools for junior high, or "Middle School."

"It's too late to re open this question," Mrs. Fremon said. She noted that the matter had been brought up at public meetings in December and January and that plans are too far along to be rescinded.

Dr. Rothberg added that 45 classrooms are required for 6th, 7th and 8th grades of the Middle School. "There's not enough room in John Witherspoon School."

PROTESTS CONTINUE

On Master Plan. The week-long intermission in the Borough Planning Board's hearing on its new Master Plan didn't change the plot, the scenery or the actors, but it did add some lively new dialogue.

Tuesday night's second, final (for a time, anyway) hearing brought out approximately 200 Borough residents, many of them the same as last week, and at least a few Princetonians from the Township. Most were from the Borough's western section, protesting chiefly the marking of Hodge - Lafayette - Cleveland as arterial roads and the designation of Greenholm as a "medium-density" area where apartments might be built. But they were critical of other proposals as well.

At the start, Board chairman Arthur Morgan emphasized, as he did last week, that the Plan is only a Plan, and can be implemented only by ordinances from Council.

He also emphasized, as he had before, that the street proposals had very low priority and in the words of the plan, were to be "deferred until further need is demonstrated," indeed might never be carried out. "We hope we never have to," he said.

"But what do we do if we HAVE to do it?" is the way Board member Carl Erdman explained the purpose of the Plan to the audience.

Who Drives Here? After Board member Norman Williams repeated last week's statistics on 15-year-growth projections for areas around Princeton, and said that Borough streets would have a 70 percent increase in traffic between now and 1985, Mrs. Hamilton Cottier, 4 Orchard Circle, exclaimed, "For whose benefit are these wide streets! I'd be willing to drive slower to keep Princeton as it is. It's not for the people living here now that you're widening these streets."

Mr. Morgan disputed her on this point, and Mr. Williams said that the whole idea of widening the streets would be to improve internal circulation for people who live here.

Karl Light, speaking for the Princeton Real Estate Group, suggested that traffic congestion might be the lever to get the Loop Road and the 92-A by-pass for Princeton, and he said the Plan's transportation policy "invites traffic."

Frederick P. Lawrence, 177 Library Place, told the Board it should press for construction of various by-passes: I-95, the I-295 that would encircle Trenton, the Loop Road and 92-A, before building any arterial roads, and Mr. Morgan reminded him that Planning Board, Mayor and Council have been pushing for these for some time.

J. Richardson Dilworth, 141 Hodge, charged that the Board's traffic proposals would change the character of the town and destroy the community. "The people here tonight don't wish this solution," he stated.

Mayor Defends. The temper of the meeting rose fast and high. After about an hour, the applause and the cheers that followed every attack on the plan drove Mayor Henry S. Patterson to a spirited defense of Mr. Morgan and the Board.

"The members of the Planning Board deserve more respect than they're getting tonight," the mayor stated. He charged that, metaphorically speaking, the Board had been subject to "hisses and boos" and he faced down a member of the audience who tried to interrupt him.

The mayor said he expected the Master Plan to be an issue in the autumn's elections, but he added, "We can solve the problems of the Borough with calmness and deliberation. I'd like to keep this town an oasis, too."

Another brief skirmish occurred between L. Scott Bailey, 90 Cleveland Lane, and Minot C. Morgan Jr., 36 Mercer Street, who had fenced at last week's meeting, too.

Mr. Bailey had asked Chairman Morgan, "Why allow more offices?" and the chairman told him that the new Plan allows only a 50 percent business increase, as opposed to the 300 percent allowed under the present zoning code.

The chairman repeated his remark of last week, that the Several small "public hearings" have been held on a neighborhood basis since publication of the Borough's Master Plan.

Chairman Arthur Morgan of the Planning Board has met in the last few days with residents of Alexander Street, tenants of the University in the Edwards-University Place area, members of the Princeton Community Democratic Organization and the Historical Society.

In the past year, since the "Business Area" section of the Plan was published, he has spoken before Rotary, Kiwanis and Chamber of Commerce meetings, to a group of businessmen (before publication of the Business section) and to representatives of University, Seminary and Choir College.

MOTHER KNOWS BEST? Well, hardly. In this scene from from Community Players' "A Taste of Honey," Shirley Kauffman (left) is mother to wistful Eileen Quenon. The play will open in Murray Theatre this Friday.

News Of The THEATRES

"HONEY" TO OPEN

Players' Production. ". . . Fresh in its accents, funny in its perceptions, somehow wistful beneath the caterwauling," is the way Walter Kerr characterized "A Taste of Honey" after the play's New York opening.

It will be seen in Princeton for the first time this Friday at 8:30 in the Community Players' production. It will be given in Murray Theatre on campus, with performances on Saturday and Sunday, and next Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the same hour.

Part of the proceeds will be donated to the Princeton Hospital Fete. Harry Rubel is directing.

Shirley Kaufman will play the role of the self - centered mother and Eileen Quenon will be the neglected daughter who falls in love with a passing Negro sailor and becomes pregnant.

Ton Schmitz will play the coarse boyfriend of the mother, and Roy Thomas will portray the housewifely homosexual who befriends the daughter after the mother abandons her. Don Evans will play the sailor.

FALL IS IN THE WINGS

McCarter Announces Plays. Four plays will be offered in repertory next fall by McCarter Theatre, starting the first week in October.

Bernard Shaw's "The Devil's Disciple," a play about the American Revolution, will open the season. It will be followed by "Henry IV," Luigi Pirandello's tragedy of insanity, disillusion and misanthropy, in a production commemorating the centenary of Pirandello's birth.

"Twelfth Night" will be the Shakespeare of the season, and McCarter has decided to make a Christmas present to the community in the form of three one-act plays for the holiday season.

These three will be "The Second Shepherds' Pageant," a traditional medieval folk play from the Wakefield Mystery plays; William Butler Yeats' "Words Upon the Window Pane," which has the satirist Dean Swift as its subject, and a third play to be announced.

Then Comes Spring. After the mid-winter break for Christmas, the spring season for McCarter will offer five plays, starting off with "The Merchant of Venice." This will be the first time McCarter has presented this particular Shakespeare play.

Other plays for spring will be Arthur Miller's "The Crucible," John Gay's "The Beggar's Opera," Christopher Marlowe's "Dr. Faustus," George Kelly's "The Torch Bearer" and Beaumarchais' classic satire, "The Marriage of Figaro."

NEW PLAYS OFFERED

By New Playwrights. Premiere performances of three plays by Princeton playwrights will be given next weekend, June 1 and 2, in the band room at Princeton High School (room 144). Curtain time is 8:30.

The three are winners in a contest held this winter and spring by the New Group for Theatre, under the leadership of Susan Rosenbaum. Tickets, at $1.50 will be available at the door.

The winners are Carol Becker with "The Walkie-Talkie," Thomas Sprecher with "Bright-Eyed and Bushy-Tailed" and Linette Martin with "A Stranger in These Parts." Harold Pinter's "The Lover" will also be performed.

ALL FOR "CINDERELLA"

235 In Cast. The largest cast of dancers ever to perform at McCarter Theatre. That's what they're saying about the Princeton Ballet School's production of "Cinderella," now in rehearsal for performance on Friday, June 2 at 8:30.

Choreography for Prokofiev's music has been executed by Audree Estey, director of the School, and three members of the School's staff: Lila Brunner, Joan Lucas and Sheila Cohen.

Mary Lou Foote, who did costumes for "Nutcracker" and other Princeton Regional Ballet productions, has designed costumes for "Cinderella."

Sets have been designed by David Guthrie of New York, who has done the sets for many Broadway musicals and ballet productions.

As a ballet, "Cinderella" goes back to 1823 when it was first performed in Paris. However, it was not until Prokofiev composed his music and the ballet was given in a large-scale version in Moscow in the Bolshoi Theatre in 1945, that the work joined the classic repertory.

Tickets for the Princeton production are on sale at the McCarter box-office.

MUSIC IN THE AIR

Words, Too. Music from Johann Strauss to Cole Porter and drama from Jean Kerr to Anouihl, will occupy the setting this summer at the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing State Park (Jersey side)

Things will get under way on Sunday, June 4 at a 2 p.m. matinee when Roger McKinney brings on the Trenton State College Clarinet Choir. The weekend of June 16 and 17 will bring a presentation of Johann Strauss' operetta, "Die Fledermaus" with performances at 8:30 p.m.

In the course of the summer, the Pennington Players will present Cole Porter's "Anything Goes" and Jean Anouihl's "Waltz of the Toreador."

Other productions will be "Mary, Mary" by Jean Kerr, "La Boheme," "Rashomon," "Mr. Roberts," "Dark of the Moon," "The Loud Red Patrick" and "Carousel."

Tickets for all events will be $2 for adults and $1 for students and children. A complete schedule may be obtained from The Washington Crossing Association of New Jersey, Box 1776, Titusville, N. J.

A MAN FOR ALL SEASONS IS the opening attraction this Saturday at the new Fox Theatre on U.S. 1, Langhorne, Pa., opposite Reedman's. Susannah York stars as a 16th Century beauty in the film, which won six Academy Awards, including best picture of the year. Also starred are Wendy Hiller, Leo McKern, Robert Shaw and Orson Welles. The first show is at 6 p.m.

"LUV," THEN EWELL

In Bucks County, Imogene Coca, King Donovan and Ronny Graham will carry the laughs in "Luv" at the Bucks County Playhouse through Saturday, June 3.

Starting Monday, June 5, the New Hope theatre will present Tom Ewell and Barbara Cook in Clifford Odet's play "The Country Girl." The role in this powerful drama will be an offbeat one for Ewell, usually seen in comedy parts. He will be remembered particularly

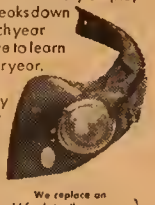
How long will it take?

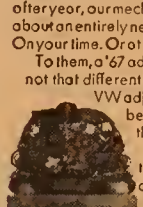
Don't pack a lunch.

Your Volkswagen happens to lead a very simple, uncomplicated life. Even when it breaks down. Because it doesn't change very much year after year, our mechanics don't have to learn about an entirely new car year after year. On your time. Or at your expense.

To them, a '67 adjustment is really not that different from any other VW adjustment that's been made since the year one. Which is why they're so good at servicing it.



We replace an old fender with a nice new one in 84 minutes.



We replace an entire engine in 90 minutes.

So thorough. And so fast.

When improvements are made, many of the new parts are made to fit older models.

Which is why there isn't a VW around today that we don't have a part for.

We replace and adjust a carburetor in 36 minutes.

Or can't get for you in short order.

Over the years, we've gotten pretty good at servicing Volkswagens.

We owe it all to the Volkswagen.

IT'S NEW To Us

A SKIRT FOR EACH LEG Long or Short. The brief culotte you wear for sailing or working in the garden can give way, as the day ends, to a sweeping floor-length culotte designed to show your guests how fashionable and color conscious you are.

We've been poking around in The Weathervane, or had you guessed? Our favorite culotte — but please, not for gardening — is a luminous chiffon in mysteriously dark blues interlaced with fuschia. Sleeves are long, and there's a high yoke to match the high style.

For a somewhat less eventful evening, you could wear the wild, high print with its wild, high waistline and low, square back. Another squared neck — in front, this time — is a paisley print on pink.

For ladies who like to wear only one skirt at a time, The Weathervane shows a group of Banlon dresses, short or long, in such an assortment of prints that you can't help being the only one on your block to own one.

Here again a shimmer of dark blues and greens makes the most dramatic dress in the collection: it's a very full tent, with soft little cowl neckline and no sleeves. If you want sleeves, Weathervane has long ones in another Banlon, this one with a belt.

Short sleeves crop up in a straight, no-nonsense dress without a hint of tent sweep. Banlons are $35.

Ah, now, silk! Nubbed or sinuous and smooth, these little silks can go to New York and either stay there or come home again with equal poise.

A navy sleeveless has a trim little skirt and a small cowl neckline; another navy offers itself as background for a very dark green and bright yellow branch print. Silk crepe for a special occasion combines turquoise and palest lime green in a gentle design.

Waistline? There's one around here somewhere . . . Weathervane has a navy linen, again for town, with a round red band at the neckline, and that tiny waist.

Another linen is sand, to wear in the sun. And our final one is a fresh, bright rose, with a narrow A seam from throat to hem and a row of self buttons starting shyly down the front.

UNDER 21

Or Even 12. They wear bright prints in the sandbox, too. We have it straight from Allen's, where a size three bathing suit might be a swipe of hot pink and orange stripes complementing navy trunks about four inches long.

Red-white-blue stripes, just like an awning, go 'way low on the waist before they meet the red pants. These are stretch bathing suits — terribly trim for the figure.

We were rather taken with the bathing suit that has the pleated white skirt and the stretch red top. But the pale blue gingham, the one over there with the white eyelet and the ruffly bra top, is so beguiling you'll wish you were two years old all over again.

Boys! Well, you won't find Allen's leaving out the boys. Swim trunks are swaggering jams for the surfers, Hawaiians for boys who like pineapple juice, stretch tanks for lean-shanked swimmers and, handsomest of all, McGregor's boxer in a sophisticated print of ruddy gold and coral.

For girls who like to stay dry, Allen's summer prize is a group of Danskin playclothes, sizes two to 14.

Here we have "tangy green" (well — limey lime) sunburst orange (no need to identify that one!) chrome yellow and turquoise in short shorts, shirts that have little sleeves or none at all, solids or white stripes.

You can play in culottes, too, as we just learned from Weathervane. Allen's version is hopsacking with a great big zipper down the front and big patch pockets to keep the jacks in. The color is a warm burnt orange.

A navy play dress has bloomers, if you can believe it, and yellow polkadot godets making a pert little flared skirt. Jam-and-jelly sets allow you to spill either with abandon. The pants underneath are ruffled like pantaloons, and so is the overblouse.

Sunsuits look like balloons about to zoom off. You won't believe how many there are until you look at Allen's rack, but we'll just mention the navy sailor suit, the seersucker stripes, the circus colors.

Older playmates reach for

Grubby?

The shaggiest shoe in town is in Brophy's window, unless it's all sold out by now.

It's a Grubby, although we prefer the plural, "Grubbies." You wear it sailing, or even walking around on land, and the great thing about it, aside from flawlessly sturdy soles and all, is that it really is grubby.

All the exposed edges are deliberately frayed canvas. The shoe itself is a natural canvas, and with all that raveling, it looks rather like a sail that's gone with the wind.

Whether you can ravel it even more is something you can occupy yourself with when the wind dies down.

for his role in "The Seven Year Itch," both on Broadway and on film.

Miss Cook originated the role of Marian in "The Music Man." She also played on Broadway in "Plain and Fancy," "She Loves Me" and "Little Murders."

DANCERS TO PERFORM

In Kehoe Recital. A varied program including a minstrel show and a preparation for a formal ball will be presented by young students of the Betty Kehoe School of the Dance on Friday, June 9, in the auditorium of Princeton High School.

The public is invited to attend, and there is no charge. The recital will begin at 8:15.

An old-time minstrel show will be the highlight of the presentation. It will feature the songs, hand and tambourine routines of an earlier day. Each student will dance in at least three numbers, displaying skill in tap, jazz and musical comedy routines.

Act Two will be "Preparation for the Ball." Mrs. Kehoe has arranged a sequence in which the various classes will, in turn, present a satin gown and accessories to a young lady about to attend her first ball.

Terrie Danley Gwin will play the young lady. Dancers performing, grouped by parts they will dance in the ballet are:

"Jewels" will be danced by Barbar DiBoise, Doreen Hanzl,, Sue Hinkson, Linda Kitts, Pamela Kovach, Sarah Male, Frieda and Marilyn Shanfield, and Fay Titus.

"Satin" by Susan Baechler, Holly Danley, Krissy Klopfenstein, Margaret Ann Pazdan, Betty Jane Blomeley and Nadia El-Meligi.

"Perfume" by Suzanne Horrigan, Cindy Johnson, Kathy Kehoe, Cheri Patricelli, Debbie Pehta, Robin Salvadore, Patty Weingart, Sharon Lynn Wenczel and Lois Zaremba.

"Lace" by Carol Ann Brown, Linda Lee Grine, Kim Proccacino, Debbie Wagner, Toni Ann Wilson and Sally Whitney.

"Lipstick" by Sheila Abramson, Susan Ann LaGrutta, Lori Lazovick, Felice Kudman, Nancy Jean Schubert, Suellen Twcel and Cynthia Wojtowicz.

"Powder Puffs" will be Cindy Ardire, Yvonne Barlow, Linda Clark, Brooke Dillon, Joy Helgendorff, Beth Hinkson, Lori Lehnert, Jackie Mayer, Kris Mowle, Patti Pillar and Kathy Platz.

Pupils in the recital are from Princeton, Lawrenceville, Pennington, Trenton, Flemington, Hightstown and Hopewell.

THE BIG TENT GOES UP

In Lambertville. St. John Terrell's Music Circus will be off and running for its 19th season on Friday, June 2.

The big tent in Lambertville will open on June 2 with the Ramsey Lewis Trio, who will also appear on Saturday, June 3. Singer Dionne Warwick will follow on Sunday afternoon and evening, June 4 and Earl Wrightson and Lois Hunt will make their Music Circus debut on Monday and Tuesday, June 5 and 6.

Other artists who will appear during the summer are Jane Powell, Sarah Vaughn, Wayne Newton, Johnny Mathis, Victor Borge, Robert Goulet and Trini Lopez.

Sarah Vaughn will star with Percival Borde and his talking drums on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 9, 10 and 11. Jane Powell with the Mariachi Brass and Bob Melvin, will appear the week of June 13-18. Wayne Newton will come to the tent in his own show, with Jackie Kahane and the Young Americans, June 20-25.

Victor Borge will return to the Music Circus on August 10, 11, 12 and 13, following Johnny Mathis the week of June 27 to July 2.

Robert Goulet has been booked for his Music Circus debut the week of August 22-26 and the Trini Lopez show with Sandy Posey, will be the final attraction, scheduled for August 29 to September 4.

MUSICAL COMEDY: Rudy Vallee appears as the president of World Wide Wicket in the big business spoof, "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," at the Playhouse, Prince and RKO Lincoln Theatres this week.

PLAYHOUSE and PRINCE

How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying (now playing) A rollicking, fast-moving satire on big business by Abe Burrows and Frank Loesser, the film has all the entertaining ingredients of the original stage show, including the three principal players.

The three are Robert Morse as the lad who went from window-washer to board chairman in a comparatively few days of earnest effort; old-timer Rudy Vallee, who has the time of his life in the comedy role of the Big Boss; and Michele Lee, cast as the secretary in love with the rising young man.

When the young window washer, working outside the windows of World Wide Wicket, Inc., finds a book of "How to Succeed in Business," he immediately follows the instructions, with very comic results. There are catchy tunes, well-stacked girls on wide screen and in full color and gags every minute on the minute.

the bluejean short in faded sage green, faded blue or faded wheat. These are short-shorts, and sturdy enough for any wranglin' dude.

Allen's also delights in a group of bluepean shorts made out of — calico! Blue or red. The yare Bermuda length, and come in slacks, too.

NEED A TRIVET?

Try the Drag Store. Thorne's in West Windsor, has a pleasant little gift nook right there oy the big front window. (We'll bet the customers buy even more for themselves than they do for gifts, because the collection has been chosen with last-minute needs in mind.)

Quick picnic? Here's a pottery plate with scoops for 12 devilled eggs around the rim, and a happy fruit bowl in the middle. Extra guests coming? Here's a batch of pottery mugs in deep olive or cinnamon with runic designs that probably say "More!"

Lent your best tray? Here's a painted eagle tray, in early American red or blue. And a row of three oblong green snack dishes in a simple teak cradle.

A pottery cutting board resembles that devilled egg plate. It's ivory with grapes, pears and a peach painted on the ivory in cheerfully natural colors. Olive green goes around the rim, and the price tag says only $1.98.

If you really want to go all out, Thorne's has a great big Blue Onion pottery kitchen set, with tall storage jars, salt-pepper, cream-sugar, jam pot, covered butter dish and even a nice big soup tureen with cover and ladle.

Pottery moves into the dressing room with Thorne's powder box and two perfumes flacons. They are white, with those delicate boy-girl charmers you've seen before on Danish ware. For a young girl's room, we'd say.

And for the young girl, Thorne's collection of swinging earrings— do you suppose they are really three inches long?

Board wants to save some space for apartments "to bring back to Princeton the people who moved away because they can't afford to live here."

"We don't want to bring more people back," Mr. Bailey retorted, and here the other Mr. Morgan stepped in.

"The prime function of Princeton is to serve as a bedroom for people who work in the educational institutions here," he declared, "and many of these have modest incomes. This part of the Plan is essential to the spirit of the Borough!"

Questioned by Mr. Bailey, the Borough's Planner, Richard May, said that low or middle-rental apartments might need a subsidy.

Jitneys? Expressing fears of "a Los Angeles future" for Princeton, Kennett Love, 5 Greenholm, asked for public transportation and reminded the Board of all the jitneys now used by companies in the area to transport their employees.

The motor car, in fact, had a hard time of it Tuesday night. Seymour Montgomery suggested that the time might come when people would not be allowed unlimited use of their cars. Mrs. Kenneth Kassler said the proposed parking garages should be built on the Loop Road, and cars forbidden in Princeton.

One speaker said the Borough could get trucks out of town "in 30 days" by strict application of existing regulations on truck weight, a decibel ordinance against horns and Diesel engine noise, and fine-toothed enforcement of traffic laws.

C. McKim Norton, 87 Lafayette Road, accused the Board of thinking in terms of traffic and not of liveability. Fred Blaicher, 10 Boudinot, said the Plan's restrictions might have a deleterious financial impact on the business community and he urged a special study of the business area.

Robert McMillan, of Hamilton Avenue, warned against building low-income apartments because he said they would change the character of the town. Charles K. Agle, 247 Elm, said "Keep through traffic the hell out of town!" Albridge C. Smith III (and others) asked that the arterial roads be removed from the map.

So when John McCarthy suggested formation of a Citizens Advisory Committee, Chairman Morgan only smiled — rather wanly.

"We're not like the unmovable Rock of Gibraltar," Mr. Morgan said. "Inevitably, there will be some amendments . . ."

WOMAN DIES

In Dutch Neck Fire. Mrs. Anna M. Downs, about 45, was found dead early Monday, after a fire gutted her one-story, wood-frame house on Meadow Road in West Windsor Township.

Mrs. Downs, a divorcee, lived alone. She was the former Anna M. Cella.

Firemen from the Dutch Neck and Princeton Junction volunteer companies were called to the scene at 7:05 a.m. by a neighbor. Trooper Robert McMahon of the Princeton Barracks and firemen investigated. Cause of the fire, which is still under investigation has not been determined.

One trooper said that the entire roof and inside were almost completely destroyed. "There isn't anything you could do but tear it down," he said.

"Phase II" of the University's apartment complex off Lower Alexander Street. John P. Moran, for the University, told the zoning board that Phase III might not be needed for ten years. Phase I, almost completed, consists of 150 one-and-two bedroom units.

At present, Mr. Moran said, there are 512 married students. He expects the total to rise to 684, as the graduate student enrollment rises from its present total of about 1,400 to 1,800.

$500 STOLEN

From Tiger Auto Store. Approximately $500 cash was reported stolen Monday morning by Nathan Miranov, an owner of Tiger Auto Stores, 24-26 Witherspoon Street. Nothing else was taken.

Police said that the money was taken from three cash boxes and two cash registers. The store had been closed Saturday at 6 and reopened Monday morning.

Police added that there are a number of little cellar windows around the building and that a wire mesh in front of one had been cut. The theft is being investigated by Detective Robert McAvenia.

$1550 From Mettler. Equipment valued at more than $1,500 was reported stolen Thursday by the Mettler Instrument Corporation, 20 Nassau Street.

Taken were a $750 16mm film projector, an IBM electric typewriter valued at approximately $700 and a $100 microscope. There was no sign of forced entry, according to the police, who said that they believe entry may have been made to the second floor office through an open window which leads to the roof.

Henry Alanso, manager of the Princeton Boutique, 2½ Chambers Street, called police Friday to report that two dresses valued at $140 were missing. Mr. Alanso said that he did not know how or when the dresses were taken.

Miss Gerrie Fisk of Wyckoff came to headquarters Sunday to report a battery stolen from her car. It has been taken, she said, sometime during the early morning when her car was parked in the Nassau Inn lot on Hulfish Street.

TWO YOUTHS HURT

When Car Overturns. Two Princeton area youths were injured Friday afternoon when their small foreign car overturned on Randall Road.

Dante O. Langston, 19, of Cranbury, the driver, suffered a mild cerebral concussion and cuts and bruises. John Smithson, 21, 67 Randall Road, a passenger, received abrasions of the elbow and shoulder. Both were treated at Princeton Hospital and released.

Langston told Township police that he was turning left around a curve when it suddenly became necessary to veer right to avoid hitting an oncoming car. He lost control and his car overturned.

Sgt. Michael Lisi ticketed Langston for careless driving. He described the damage to the car as total.

An Oklahoma City resident early last week crashed into two parked cars in the lot adjoining the Public Library.

Margaret M. Shultz, 21, who has been visiting a sister in Lawrence Township, was charged with careless driving by Ptl. Arthur Jackson. She was taken in a patrol car to Princeton Hospital where 16 sutures were needed to close lacerations of her lip and chin. She was admitted for observation.

Miss Schultz' car rammed the rear of two parked 1964 sedans, damaging the entire

SEEK SPECIAL PERMIT

To Erect Dormitory. West minster Choir College will appear before the Borough Zoning Board Thursday night to request a special permit to construct a student dormitory. The proposed dormitory would be located on campus in the site of old Franklin Avenue roadbed, according to Borough Engineer Thomas Cawley.

Questions raised by the application involve whether the dormitory consists of one building, or three, and usage. Does the presence of practice rooms in the basement invalidate its designation as a dormitory?

The application carries with it an automatic referral to the Borough Planning Board.

TWO SPEEDERS FINED

In Township Court. Two Princeton drivers were fined for speeding last week by Township Magistrate Glen B. Miller Jr.

Filomena Balestrieri, 25, 40 Clearview Avenue, paid $29, and Edwin R. Levin, 39, 37 Pine Knoll Drive, paid $25. Mr. Levin pleaded not guilty.

David Liverman, 90 Leigh Avenue, paid $25 as a disorderly person. He was charged with loitering while intoxicated in the courtyard of 1922 Hall, Princeton University campus.

In Borough court Monday, Magistrate Theodore T. Tams, Jr., assessed $15 fines on James E. Irby, 25, 140 Jefferson Road, failure to yield to oncoming traffic; Robert F. Smith, 18, Schalks Road, Plainsboro, 18, late inspection; Victor G. Larson, 60, Autumn Hill Road, failure to yield at an intersection; David L. Baker, 20 Cranbury Road, Princeton Juntion, unregistered vehicle; and Phoebe M. Knapp, 17, Rosedale Lane and Jeanne R. McConnell, 42, 45 Knoll Drive, both careless driving.

Driving the wrong way on a one-way street cost Princeton University student Jan M. Twardowski, 21, $12. Philip Hall, 126 John Street, and Joseph Meyers Jr., 118 Linden Lane, each paid $10 for failing to have a name displayed on a commercial vehicle.

Five Princeton area drivers have had their licenses suspended by the Division of Motor Vehicles under the point system.

They are Enid R. Woodworth, 40, 1 Ober Road, and John W. Breese, 41, Route 206, Belle Mead, both three months; Barry R. Thompson, 22, Carter Road, 90 days; Arnold J. Cogan, 42, 177 Meadowbrook Drive, two months; and John Reid Jr., 19, 26 Westcott Road, one month.

Theresa Caplan, 53, 101 Brookstone Drive, was halted for speeding. She lost her license for 30 days.

LADDIE'S BACK! Twelve days after his disapparance, the two-year-old Shetland belonging to the Ostroff family was found near Alexander Road and U. S. 1, ending a steady series of phone calls from hooseholders tracing his progress from Hightstown into Princeton. The family speculates that he was captured by dognappers. Story this page.

trated by the American Indian Program of the Save the Children Federation. The club undertook the venture as a memorial to Mrs. Loreta Merritt, former chairman of the Club's committee on international goodwill and understanding.

THE HUNT FOR LADDIE

"We Answered Every Call." A small sable-and-white Shetland shepherd dog who looks like a minature collie and answers to the name of "Laddie" disappeared one day several weeks ago.

Fearing dognapping, yet hoping that Laddie had just strayed, the Harold Ostroff family of 42 Cuyler Road started an all-out campaign to find him. "There wasn't anyone we didn't ask if they'd seen Laddie," Mrs. Ostroff says. "We asked the trash man, the mailman, the kids at school who know him.

"We put advertisements in the Princeton papers and on the radio, and every time someone called us, we would stop whatever we were doing and drive to wherever the call came from."

The Princeton Borough and Township police, and the police of Hopewell, Lawrence Township and West Windsor all got in touch with the family at one time or another. Several times they brought stray dogs te the Ostroff house, but the dogs were never Laddie.

The Dog Was Trying. While the Ostroffs and their son Scotty were driving along back roads, stopping to beat through fields and brush calling for Laddie, the little 20-lb. dog was trying to get gack to Princeton.

"The first phone call from people who thought they'd seen him came from way out near Hightstown," Mrs. Ostroff says. "Then they began to come from West Windsor in the area of the Princeton-Hightstown Road. We could almost trace his progress."

Mrs. Jeanne Graves of the Small Animal Rescue League was on her way to Cranbury when she spied a limping dog that she was sure was Laddie on Alexander Road beyond U.S. 1. She called the Ostroffs from the nearest house, but the dog was gone when Mrs. Ostroff arrived. "I walked through all the fields there calling him," she reported.

A few days later, a woman said that Laddie might be the stray dog she'd been feeding for the past two days. The dog refused to let anyone near him and would not eat unless he was alone. Mr. Ostroff and Scotty searched the area again that evening.

Still Trying. Telephone linemen on U.S. 1 told Mrs. Ostroff as she made her rounds the next day that they'd seen a little dog like Laddie. "He's been trying to get across U.S. 1 for two days . . ."

The family redoubled its efforts until around noon on the 12th day, the dog leaped out at the Ostroffs from a field off Alexander Road, having managed to cross the dual highway. "He was dirty and tangled

It's a little irreverent to call a half-million dollars worth of sophisticated electronics a Lemon-Proofer.

But what else are you going to call something that Lemon-Proofs your car? An Automotive Diagnostic Center? (That's what the January Reader's Digest called it.)

Anyway, Garth Pitcairn must hate lemons more than any other automobile dealer in the county. Because he's the only automobile dealer who's invested 500 grand to stamp lemons out.

Every factory-fresh Pitcairn Olds goes through the Lemon-Proofer before we take the cellophane off the seats. And it gets re-Leman-Proofed at a 2,000 mile check-up.

If it's a good used car you want from Pitcairn, that gets Lemon-Proofed, too. Before it's allowed on the lot. And again at a 1,000 mile check-up.

In 16 minutes, the Lemon-Proofer Lemon-Proofs 86 different parts and operations of your car with infallible electronics.

The Lemon-Proofer doesn't guess. It doesn't make mistakes that cost you time, money or safety. It just Lemon-Proofs cars that are going to run like a half-million dollars.

Puzzles Needed

Vietnam might seem a most unlikely spot for jigsaw puzzle hobbyists, but Mrs. Charles Caldwell, formerly of Princeton, now of the USO, China Beach, needs jigsaw puzzles for servicemen.

Jig-saws may be taken to Mrs. Minot C. Morgan Jr., 36 Mercer Street, for shipment to Vietnam. Or, Mrs. Morgan will pick them up, in response to a call to 924-3375. Money for postage has been contributed by the Woman's Club.

Because of weight limitations, puzzles must be thin cardboard not thick ones made of wood. It doesn't matter if pieces are missing.

and terribly thin. We hugged him and put him in the car. Then Laddie did the strangest thing . . . he began to talk to us, not barking, but a whimpering sound in his throat, as though he wanted to tell us all about it."

The Ostroffs speculate that Laddie may have been picked up by dognappers. He's a dog who likes home and who figures every ride in the car leads to the veterinarian. It may be that he was picked up and was so hard to manage that he was dumped near Hightstown.

FRICTION FLARES

Between Town and Gown. Youths from town and Princeton University students glared at and threatened each other last weekend across Nassau Street, which served as an effective no-man's land. Occasionally the tension was broken by fights.

Borough police made one arrest. At 2:20 a.m. Sunday they arrested William Diringer, 20, 9 Pine Street and charged him as a disorderly person, when he directed, they said, foul and indecent language at Sgt. Robert Anderson and university procters.

He was later released on $50 bail. His hearing before a Borough magistrate will be held Monday.

The same morning at 1:35, Daniel C. Calhoun, 18, of Kingston, told police he was driving on Nassau near P.J.'s Pancake House when his windshield was hit by stones, breaking it. He added that the stones were hurled from both sides of the street.

Calhoun and his brother, a passenger in the car, were hit by pieces of splintered glass. Both refused medical treatment.

Hit on Head. According to Lt. Francis Maguire, the weekend friction began when a University student was allegedly "bopped" on the head by a Princeton youth attending Rutgers University. The incident took place shortly before midnight on Nassau Street in front of the pancake house.

After the milling group of town and gown youths was dispersed by the police, the alleged assailant of the university student was arrested and brought to headquarters. The victim refused to sign a complaint.

"That's the main trouble," said Lt. Maguire. "The students are not comming over here to sign complains as they should. They want to handle all altercations with the 'townies' by themselves."

The following night, Saturday, police reported youths milling about on Nassau between Tulane Street and the pancake house. A reported 20 to 30 university students were fined opposite them on the bank in front of Firestone Library. They were sent back to their rooms by university procters before trouble developed.

PARADE AT 11

Memorial Ceremonies Follow. The annual Memorial Day parade in Princeton will start at 11 and march up Nassau Street from Princeton Avenue to the World War I Memorial at Mercer where a brief ceremony honoring the memory of those who served in past wars will be held.

The principle speaker will be Paul J. Barringer, Princeton University Class of 1924, who moved to Princeton last year. Mr. Barringer is a retired Air Force colonel. More recently, he retired from the foreign service, where he held the rank of ambassador, serving mainly in Southeast Asia and China. He is presently associated with Career-Ways System, 1 Palmer Square.

Father Hugh Ronan of St. Paul's Church, Dr. William L. Tucker, chaplain of the American Legion Post, and Rabbi Everett Gendler or his representative will represent the three faith at the ceremonies. Donald W. Griffin, of American Legion Post 76, will be master of ceremonies.

In the line of march for the parade will be police colors and guard; Borough, Township and West Windsor officials; parade officials, guests, Princeton High School band, Fort Dix Army Unit, Army and Navy ROTC units from the University, color guards and members from Legion Post 76, and Legion Post 218, the American Legion Auxiliary, and the VFW Green Laners Band from Ewing.

Also, the Princeton Volunteer Firemen with one fire engine — a first — Princeton's boy scout and girl scout troops and the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad.

Mr. Griffin and D. Don Richards of Post 76 are co-chairmen of the parade. They stress that all unit leaders must report to the parade assembly committee on Princeton Avenue at 10:30 on Tuesday. Those not present will forfeit their place.

At 9 a.m. Legion Post 218 will conduct a service at Princeton Cemetery on Witherspoon Street under the direction of Commander George Holmes. Wallace Holland Jr. of Post 218 and an official of the parade will assist.

At 9:30, a Post 76 firing squad will engage in ceremonies in front of St. Paul's Church during a memorial mass inside the church. Robert Schmidt will sound taps. Members of the St. Paul's student body have been urged to attend a Memorial Mass in the St. Paul's cemetery on Tuesday.

The Rev. F. Hugh Liffiton, St. Andrew's Church, will speak at the John Witherspoon School at two assembly meetings Friday morning. Teachers in all public elementary schools will observe Memorial Day.

A Flag on Every Grave. In the days preceding Memorial Day, the Graves Decorating Committee has been active.

BUSINESS In Princeton

FIFTY YEARS COMPLETED

For Mr. Bunn at S. & L. On May 17, 1917, B. Franklin Bunn sat down with the board of the Princeton Building and Loan for its first organizational meeting. Half a century later, Princeton Building and Loan has changed its name to Princeton Savings and Loan but Mr. Bunn is still sitting with the Board.

Mr. Bunn presided, as chairman of the board, over the 50th anniversary meeting of the Savings and Loan association this month. Since July, 1917, when the association first opened its doors for business, thousands of home mortgages and home improvement loans have been provided to Princeton area families.

Mr. Bunn, speaking for the board, said, "I have watched this association grow and help Princeton to grow over the last 50 years. I feel confident that our service to the community will continue at an even more rapid rate in the years to come."

The association presently claims more than $15-million in assets. It is also paying the area's highest dividend rate.

Mrs. Charlotte Dougherty, president of Princeton Savings and the second woman ever elected to the Board of Governors of the State Savings and Loan League, said that the association has several ideas for its anniversary year. "We plan on celebrating our anniversary throughout the year," she reported.

AIRPORT ADDS FRIDAY

To Washington Flights. Princeton Airport now offers non-stop flights to Washington, D.C. Monday through Friday instead of its previous four-day schedule.

The extra day brings to 20 the number of flights now offered each week to and from the nation's capital. There are two flights from Princeton each day at 7:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. and two leaving Washington at 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. The change was made to accommodate numerous requests for a Friday flight, according to Peter Hines, an officer of Princeton Airways.

The airport also offers over 20 flights a day direct to Newark and Kennedy Airports. For complete information and reservations, call 921-7531.

PERSONNEL CHANGES SET

By Cook Realtors. Edmund Cook and Company, Realtors, has announced a series of staff changes. These include the promotion of Theodore S. Peyton from assistant secretary to secretary, the appointment of Norman Callaway as supervisor of management and assistant secretary, and the appointment of Serge Rizzo to the sales department.

Mr. Peyton of 15 Blackwell Avenue, Hopewell, has been with the firm's sales department since 1964. The Princeton University graduate's credits include, the coordination of the West Mill Creek Urban Renewal Project for the Redevelopment Authority of Philadelphia.

Mr. Callaway is the former manager of a horse farm in Middleburg, Va. He lives with his wife and two children at 107 Laurel Road.

Mr. Rizzo, 218 Hendrickson Drive, Princeton Junction, is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Rizzo of Princeton. After graduating from the Georgetown School of Foreign Service and the School of Languages and Linguistics, he lived and traveled in 26 countries. He served as a sales executive for Varig International Airlines and has had four year's sales experience in real estate prior to joining Edmund D. Cook.

BANKING POSTS FILLED

At Convention. Two officers of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company were named to executive posts in the New Jersey Bankers Association at its 64th annual convention in Atlantic City. William R. Coshy, president of the Princeton Bank and Trust Company, was named to the executive committee, the NJBA's governing body.

J. Taylor Woodward was one of three New Jersey bankers elected to the Trust Division Executive Committee. He is senior vice-president and trust officer of Princeton Bank.

How About "Fool"?

I'd like to swim
In that new pool:
Is there some other
Rhyme than "cool?"

There have been a few days this "spring" when proper equipment for swimming would have included an ice-breaker.

The future, however, is brighter—and what's more, warmer. Thursday is expected to remain chill, but Friday is scheduled to bring milder weather and a really pleasant weekend appears to be in store. Try that new pool along about Saturday!

"They place a flag on every veteran's grave we have a record of," said Mr. Richards. "They do a tremendous job and deserve a lot of credit."

CONTEST OPENS

For Weather Experts. When will the temperature reach 95 degrees? The "How Good A Weatherman Are You?" contest opens this week, sponsored by Nassau Savings and Loan Association.

The object of the contest is to guess the exact, hour and minute that the mercury will first soar to the 95-degree mark on the time/temperature sign in front of Nassau S & L. Contestants may send in guesses as long as they wish, provided their entry is postmarked at least 48 hours prior to the day the thermometer reaches 95 degrees.

Prizes offered are $100 if the winner is a saver at Nassau Savings and Loan, to be added to his account. If he isn't a Nassau saver, he will receive a new $50 account at the Association. Duplicate prizes will be offered in case of a tie.

All guesstimate dates should be between June 1 and September 2, with the contest ending as soon as the 95-degree mark is officially recorded. If we have a cool summer, the contestant with the guess closest to the earliest date with the highest temperature will be the winner.

Entry blanks (see advertisement, page 21) and further details may be obtained at the Nassau Savings' office, 194 Nassau Street. Response to last year's contest was so great, according to Walter B. Foster Jr., "that we decided to repeat the contest this year."

POOLS OPEN SATURDAY

After Noon Ceremonies. The Community Park pools will open to the public for the first time on Saturday, following ceremonies at noon.

Both mayors, Henry S. Patterson of the Borough and Carl C. Schafer of the Township, will be present for the ribbon-cutting. Also on hand will be R. Donald Barr, director of the Joint Recreation Commission, who oversaw construction of the half-million dollar complex; his assistant, Edward Beacham, and members of the Joint Recreation Board.

Also, representatives of Milton Costello Associates, architects; Wagner Construction, contractor; and sub-contractors. In addition, the Board has extended invitations to anyone connected with the conception and planning of the long-awaited pool. This, they discovered, embraces many dedicated people and goes back quite far in time.

Now that the pools are a reality, a number of swimming opportunities are being offered. First, there will be free instruction during the morning to any youngster in the Township or Borough whether he is a member or not. From 7 to 9, a competitive swim program described as "high-powered" will be offered under the direction of Robert Clotworthy.

The fee for this 6-day-a week program is $25 a month or about $1 a day . . . a "tremendous bargain," in the opinion of the board members. A less competitive program is being planned for the afternoon, probably between 5 and 6, according to Mr. Barr.

Through the cooperation of the Red Cross, a free water safety instructors' course will be given June 7-9 and 12-14. The one prerequisite for the 6 hour-per day course is a senior life saving badge. The course is a five day affair. Six days are provided to afford participants a one-day leeway.

On July 20, the New Jersey A.A.U. Men's and Women's one-meter Diving Championships will be held at the diving pool which measures up to 20 feet in depth. More than 50 applicants are expected.

Revenue Reaches $15,000. At the Recreation Commission's monthly meeting last Wednesday, Mr. Barr reported that total revenue from permits to the pools and the tennis courts amounted to $15,259.75. About $12,000 of this is in pool permits.

"I'm very pleased, considering the type of weather we've had," commented Mr. Barr. "We feel sales are going very well."

An open house held on Saturday was well attended, with peak crowds reported in the morning, at 1 for a diving exhibition and later in the afternoon.

Robert Sinkler, a member of the Recreation Board, has been named Supervisor for the Summer Playground program.

BIRTHS

Twins Born. Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Williams of 207 Dana Street became parents of twins, a boy and a girl, on May 14 in Princeton Hospital. In all, 16 children were born last week, six girls and 10 boys.

Girls were born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Terwilliger, 95 Crestview Drive, May 14; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Blankenbush, 20 Dublin Road, Pennington, and Mr. and Mrs. Philip Brandt, 13 Cannon Drive, Trenton, both on May 15; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hunt, 7 Elm Street, Hopewell, May 18; and Mr. and Mrs. William Wren, Relle Mead Blawenburg Road, Skillman, May 19.

CRAFT SHOW TO BE HELD

By Sharon Students. Arts and crafts executed by the youngsters who study at the Sharon Studio will be exhibited Monday through Thursday, June 5-8, at the Jewish Center. The exhibit will be open Tuesday through Thursday from 1-9 p.m., with a special invitation preview Monday from 7-10 p.m. The public is invited to attend. This is the Studio's 12th annual exhibit.

Among the hundreds of works on display will be projects in oils, water colors, acrylic paints, plactics, stone, wire and ink. There will be wood work and metal work objects, mosaics, mobiles, ceramics and prints.

The young artists are between the ages of 5 and 14. Mrs. Ruth Sharon, founder and director of the Studio, will be at the exhibit on Tuesday from 5:30 to 9:30 to answer questions about her methods of teaching.

SOCIETY TO MEET

This Thursday. The next meeting of the Van Harlingen Historical Society will be held this Thursday at 8:15. It will take place in the home of Mrs. Richard Hoisington of Cherry Valley Road.

Speaking on "Colonial Gardens and Landscaping" will be Mrs. Townsend Scudder of Ambleside Gardens in Belle Mead. Mrs. Scudder is a member of the American Association of Nurserymen and the New Jersey Nurserymen's Association.

The Bryn Mawr College graduate is also past president of the Hopewell Valley Garden Club. She has lectured at numerous workshops on landscape design and the history of landscape architecture.

RECITAL SCHEDULED

By Holt Pupils. The pupils of Irina L. Holt will present a piano recital Sunday at 4. It will take place in Mrs. Holt's home at 28 Scott Lane.

monthly meeting Monday, June 5, at 12:15 in the Nassau Inn. Dr. Richard K. Greenfield, president of Mercer County Community College, will be guest speaker.

Dr. Greenfield will outline plans for the county's new two-year college with respect to the curriculum and its relation to local industry needs. The Chamber office should be contacted by calling 921-7676 for reservations.

A & S OPENS

This Wednesday. A & S of Princeton, 86 Nassau Street, will hold its grand opening this Wednesday with offers of free soda, coffee and cake and two hot dogs, bamburgers or grilled cheese for the price of one. (See ad, page 25.)

A & S? Those who remember the site as the Princeton Stationers would have a hard time recognizing the interior now. There's isn't a ream of stationery in the place. Instead, A & S seems certain to become a Mecca for anyone on Nassau Street in search of a quick lunch or a leisurely cup of coffee.

The "A" stands for Alice and the "S" for Sol. Alice and Sol Davidow have remodeled the greater portion of the store into an attractive, stand-up luncheonette. The walls are lined with walnut paneling. A bright, yellow-topped counter, shaped somewhat like an "S" splits the store down the middle.

A & S plans to specialize in hot dogs and hamburgers in two sizes: one for 20 cents and one containing a quarter of a pond of beef for 45 cents. An extra nickel will convert either into a cheeseburger. California burger or just about any way you ask.

Sandwich lovers will welcome the chance to buy a corned beef or pastrami on rye and munch on a kosher pickel. There will be a full menu from two grilles including fried chicken.

For dessert, have some vanilla or chocolate frozen custard. Stop in any time for a cup of coffee or a coke.

Mr. Davidow is being assisted by his brother, Allen, in the operation of the luncheonette. George Maltabas is the chef.

ERDMAN OPENS OFFICE

For Architecture. Michael P. Erdman, 301 Elm Road, has opened an office for the general practice of architecture at One Palmer Square. The young architect, working with Alexander Ewing and Associates of Philadelphia, an architectural engineering firm, will provide complete services for all types of projects.

A graduate of Princeton University in 1957, Mr. Erdman continued his architectural training at the University of Pennsylvania. He then joined Alexander Ewing and Associates as designer and managing architect.

He has supervised the planning of several institutional, commercial and industrial projects. These include research buildings for Cabot, Cabot and Forbes, a major industrial developer; a new showroom and service center for the Ford Motor Company in Philadelphia; and the new "Corporation Yard" now under construction at the Princeton Theological Seminary.

Mr. Erdman is a resident of Princeton and is married to the former Ann Lea, also of Princeton. They live with their two-year-old daughter Lea, at 301 Elm Road.

BALLADS OFFERED

At The Next Door. Betty Ann Steck will entertain at The Next Door this Friday and Saturday evenings. The Princeton High School graduate sings folk ballads to her own guitar accompaniment.

The Next Door, a coffee house for young adults, has scheduled Miss Steck as part of its spring program. The Dutch Neck folk singer is already a veteran of the Princeton coffee house with several previous apppearances to her credit.

Miss Steck, a member of the Princeton Folk Music Club, attended Bryant College and Pine Woods Folk Music Center in Massachusetts. Her favorite instrument is a six-string guitar.

On the program for this weekend are many familar ballads including "Black is the Color of my True Love's Hair" and "One Morning in May," "If I Were a Black-Bird" and "Still I Love Him," two Irish street ballads of the 19th century, will also be featured.

ART FAIR COMING

To Roosevelt School. The Roosevelt P.T.A. is sponsoring an Art Fair in the school gymnasium. Professional artists children enrolled in the school will exhibit their works side by side starting at 7 p.m. this Friday.

The Fair will offer displays in many art forms including oil painting, watercolors, sculpturing, graphics and handcrafts.

Various booths will offer instruction pamphlets and demonstrations in various media. Professional artists will work in public with oils, charcoal and pastels.

CHILDREN TO GRADUATE

From Nursery School. The Shipetaukin Country Day School has scheduled its Commencement Program for this Friday at 10 a.m. After children in the graduating class have received their diplomas, they will present a play, "Peter Rabbit," under the direction of Mrs. Bradley Kehoe and Mrs. Dale Strong.

The children, who have all been accepted by the kindergarten of their choice, are Lori Lehnert, Lee Barclay, James Beck, Linda Carroll, Wayne Miller, Susan Strong, Carrie Anderson, William Perna, Roger Bart, Lewis Barringer, Gary Baldwin and Joseph Dienst.

BALLET AUDITIONS SET

By Ballet Society. The Princeton Ballet Society will hold auditions for the Junior and Senior Princeton Regional Ballet Company on Sunday, June 4. The auditions will be held at the Princeton Ballet School, 262 Alexander Street.

"This is an exciting opportunity for dancers from the Central New Jersey area," explained Audree Estey, artistic director of the company, "since they will have a chance to work with one of the fastest growing regional companies of the east coast."

Alfredo Corvino, faculty member of the New York City Metropolitan Ballet School, will conduct the auditions. Dancers, ages 12 through 14, are asked to appear from 2 to 3:30.

The Senior Comppany audition will be held from 3:30 to 5 for dancers 15 and over. Dancers interested in trying out should call the Princeton Ballet School at 921-7758 or 921-2473.

B'NAI BRITH TO MEET

For Fiscal Session. The Princeton chapter of B'nai Brith Women will finish its season with a meeting Wednesday at 9. The meeting, scheduled for the Jewish Center, will feature a demonstration of make-up techniques.

Mrs. Laura Brownstein and Mrs. Estelle Galomb, program chairmen, have arranged for a representative of Marsh and Company to conduct the program. Members interested in participating should attend the meeting with a neutral face and a mirror.

Tickets for the June 3rd performance of "A Taste of Honey" may be obtained from Mrs. Leonard Hymerling at 924-2457. The chapter has contracted for a bloc of tickets at this performance of the Princeton Community Players.

Mrs. Walter Brunner has been elected president of the Princeton chapter of B'nai Brith Women. She will preside at Wednesday's meeting with the aid of hostesses Mrs. Bert Berson, Mrs. Theodore Helfgott and Mrs. Walter Stephan.

COLLEGE CLUB TO MEET

For Spring Meeting. Two Smith College students who have just finished a year of study at Princeton University will speak to the Smith College Club on Monday. The occasion will be the club's spring meeting at 1:30 in the home of Mrs. Peter C. Holnback 2nd, 106 Winfield Road.

The two girls are Miss Kathryn Rider and Miss Nelle Williams. Under the Cooperative Undergraduate Program for Critical Languages, they attended Princeton during their junior year.

A slate of new officers is to be presented at the business meeting preceeding the program. The slate, proposed by Mrs. Jack B. Joyce, nominating chairman, includes: Mrs. John Davies, vice-president; Mrs. Thomas C. Jamieson Jr., secretary; and Mrs. Thomas Hartmann, treasurer.

Mrs. Frederick Blum will continue serving her two year term as president of the club. Mrs. David L. Carter will be next year's auction chairman, while Mrs. Leon Greenberg and Mrs. Frederic Fox will serve as co-chairmen of the club's raffle.

Censorship Defined.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The subject of "realism" is mentioned in all the letters and comments by the opponents of the Family Movie Committee. The definition of realism is "the principle of depicting persons and scenes as they exist."

Many of the films released today, and aimed specifically at a young audience are not realism. (Examples — the James Bond and Matt Helm series.) We agree that many of the movies which Hollywood labels "recommended for mature audiences" are dealing with realism when they portray hatred, lust, infedility and violence.

However, courage, honor, loyalty and love of family also do exist. Would the cause of realism be bettered served by having a fair share of films depicting these qualities in human nature?

Whenever someone wishes to discredit a group such as ours, whose objectives seem to be in disagreement with his beliefs, he shouts "censorship." To censor is to "prohibit (or forbid) the performance of." The enactment of our request to Palmer Square Inc. "to show a film in one of their two theatres each week-end which would be appropriate for family view" would not prohibit the scheduling of films for adult audiences.

A Time to Be Heard

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Granted, the facts of life are natural. Also granted, some of them pertaining to sex and other physical functions are private.

Now the question arises what is natural and what is private. Also, what is right and what is wrong?

To a maniacal personality, sick behavior is natural. To an infant, the need of privacy does not even exist. Civilization encompasses a vast variety of educational processes.

It establishes rights and wrongs. We may disagree with some of the definitions and pioneer new progressive or retarding guide posts. The results show in time.

Movies are more and more taking the place of books. They do not require so much the energy of concentration and maturity of selection.

The pictorial invasion of the senses is tremendous and without intermissions for reflection. In order to escape from a movie, you must publicly walk out and forfeit your entrance fee. You become a rebel. You may be ridiculed.

In a letter to the Family Movie Committee, the chairman of the board of directors, Palmer Square, Inc., says that the shortage of quality films being produced his made it a seller's market rather than a buyer's market in recent years. Those that feel that a welcome change to good movies is necessary, those that are confident that the imagination can be stimulated by provocative material whose subject is not necessarily sick in sexual behavior and exhibiting abhorring violence, must voice their opinion and demand a CHOICE of movies in Princeton.

Police Harassment Charged.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Soldiers are dying every day to "keep our country safe for democracy." It is therefore particularly distressing to find that many policemen here in Princeton do not know very much about democracy and what it means.

An incident last Saturday at the Shopping Center made me stop and ask myself what these soldiers are dying for. The presence of a large tank, a jeep, a machine gun and a supply truck evoked the need in a number of townspeople to express their distaste for this military display.

Many of us stood quietly near this equipment, holding signs to remind the parents of the gaily climbing children what this tank and gun represented. We also gave away balloons.

Three police cars were nearby. We thought they were there to protect the passerby from traffic. That is, until they started to harass us.

We were asked to leave. Knowing our lawful rights, we refused.

Knowing our lawful rights, the police refused to arrest us. But they continued to harass and intimidate us.

The story had a happy ending for us. The military equipment left the Shopping Center one hour earlier than scheduled. My apologies to the Shopping Center management for spoiling their "party."

Perhaps they should realize that holding an "Armed Forces Day Exhibit" is not the way to peace. There is no way to peace. Peace is the way.

(Mrs.) CAROL JACOBS

Police Action Approved.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

We recently had cause to call the Princeton Township Police to our house, and we want to take this opportunity to say how quickly they responded to our call, and to thank them publicly.

Their job must be a discouraging one at times, and we want them to know how grateful we are to them for all they have done, and will keep on doing, not only for us, but for every Township resident. We are fortunate in having men of such high calibre and with such dedication to their duty on our Township Police force.

Jugtown Favored over Traffic.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

At the Borough Hall meeting on the Master Plan last week, most objections to the widening of certain streets for traffic came from west side residents.

I know, however, of at least one hand raised to speak for Jugtown, and that hand was not called upon. The Planners' wish to preserve historic Princeton, as mentioned in their literature, hardly seemed consistent with the widening of Nassau and Harrison Streets, and with the warning to future builders there not to build too close to the street. Buildings there are already close to the street and Jugtown is historic.

Speaking very briefly to Mrs. Gibbons of the Princeton Historical Society, I was gratified to learn that the Society had already expressed its concern for Jugtown to the Board. As a new member of the Historical Society myself, as a conservationist, and as a resident of one of Jugtown's old houses, I want it down in black and white that the preservation of Jugtown is more important than the comfort of traffic, and to express gratitude to the Historical Society for putting its weight behind this preservation.

Street Widening Attacked.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

May one suggest that there exists a body of responsible, informed opinion which makes a strong case against relieving traffic distress (particularly in towns like Princeton) by ruthlessly widening streets. This practice has proved no cure; on the contrary, it invites and encourages the condition it proposes to alleviate. If "through" traffic is to be rerouted around Princeton (as is proposed for the future), what earthly good will it do to widen roads, disfigure the landscape, obliterate historic landmarks and invite even heavier traffic?

Towns can't go on widening roads indefinitely. When they do, they disappear and become unhappy, centerless ribbon communities lining the highways.

Surely imaginative thinking and practical common sense can find better ways of tackling the problem. Perhaps better local public transportation?

Widening Harrison street as is proposed won't help; it will make matters worse. And is not Jugtown a place of historical interest worth preserving?

Questions for the University.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On May 16 there was a public hearing on the proposed Master Plan for Princeton Borough. The Plan projects the development of this community over the next 13 years.

Its proposals are based on an assumption that Princeton faces two alternatives: "It can maintain its traditional character as a medium-size community with a high quality residential and institutional environment; or, it can encourage a transformation into a substantial city, a center for its own region with large scale business operations, tall buildings, and freeways going in and out." The Chairman of the Planning Board states that Princeton feels that it must take the first alternative and that in doing so it will be "going against the tide" brought on by the pressures of the megalopolis.

Princeton plans to keep its population of permanent residents and students under 15,000 by 1980. This would be less than 30% increase. Based on the fact that the population of New Jersey will increase by 50% over the same period, I feel that the Master Plan is open to many questions.

It was apparent from the public hearing that Princeton University either agrees with the Master Plan or it did not have any opinion. It is inconceivable that Princeton University can agree with such a reactionary, socially isolationist plan.

The University's policy for its campus has been that the changing needs of society must be met. The administration is not trying to preserve the campus as an architectural monument to the past. Instead they have made it grow to meet the needs of an increasing student body. Why has the University remained silent about its feelings on the planning of its own home town?

Perhaps some of the blame for Princeton's silence is with the Architecture Department. I am sure that members of that faculty feel Princeton Borough has more choice for the future than the two oversimplified generalizations of the Master Plan would indicate. There is a great gap between the ideal residential town that the Borough wants and the mechanistic city that it fears. It is quite possible, architecture students are told by their faculty, to have functional attractive communities that lie somewhere between those two alternatives.

In any case it is discomforting that both the University as a whole and the Architecture Department as a small but intellectually significant part of that whole should not have tried to do the very thing it expects of its graduates, by exercising leadership for the design of the future.

As a post-script, I find that President Goheen's recent statement of the inevitability of co-education at Princeton and its effect on the population of the community demonstrates that the University is indeed not taking part in the town's affairs. Such a populaion increase is contrary to the Master Plan, but it is inevitable. Perhaps the University should try to help the town understand the reasons for change and how adaptation can be best undertaken.

DEDICATION ANNOUNCED

For Peyton Hall. The new home of Princeton University's Department of Astrophysical Sciences will be dedicated Friday with a brief ceremony starting at noon. The $1.3-million building, first occupied last fall, is William Charles Peyton Hall.

The structure was built with funds supplied by Bernard Peyton of Pretty Brook Road, the National Science Foundation and the Ford Foundation. It was named in honor of Mr. Peyton's father, who actively supported astronomy at Princeton until his death in 1936.

Mr. Peyton, President Robert F. Goheen and Dr. Lyman Spitzer Jr., chairman of the department of astrophysical sciences, will speak at the ceremony. A former president of the New York Air Brake Co., Mr. Peyton is now director of E. I. du Pont de Nemours and Co. and since 1950 has been chairman of the Advisory Council of the Department of Astrophysical Sciences.

The astrophysics building — like the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs — was designed by Minoru Yamasaki. Located on Ivy Lane near Palmer Stadium, it is the first of a three-structure science complex that will also include physics and math buildings.

Peyton Hall is built of stone and precast concrete with a row of window panels similar to Yamasaki's columns on the Woodrow Wilson School. Two copper domes on the roof house two telescopes, one of which belonged to William Charles Peyton for whom the building is named.

The main floor holds a large lecture room and faculty offices. The lower and below-grade floor houses various laboratories, including a vacuum laboratory, three spectroscopic laboratories and a data-preparation room for computers.

FIVE ARE FINALISTS

In Language Contest. Five students at Princeton High School have been named finalists in the state-wide competition to find the best modern-language students in New Jersey.

Finalists are Esther Dyson, French and Russian; George Cervera and Christopher Wolf, Spanish; Sarah Peskin and Frazer Lively, French.

About 30 high school students in the state reached the finals. They are now entitled to compete for the $300 Harold J. Ruland scholarship to be awarded to the author of the best essay written in the foreign language of his choice. The topic will be assigned on the day of the competition.

In the six years the competition has been held, Princeton High has won the Ruland prize three times. Last year's winner, David Blair in Russian, is now majoring in Russian at Harvard.

BLUES TO TRAIN

At Camp Drum. Some 12,000 members of the 50th Armored Division, "The Jersey Blues," will leave from home armories on Friday for 16 days of annual field training at Camp Drum in upstate New York.

Leaving by truck convoy from Princeton that evening will be the 48 men of Company A, 6th Battalion, stationed at the River Road Armory. Commander of Company A is 1st Lt. Joseph R. Matthews.

The 50th Armored Division is one of the top priority armored divisions in the Army's reserve force. It is commanded by Maj. Gen. James H. Weyhenmeyer Jr. of Livingston.

PARADE BANDS NEEDED

In Hopewell. Hopewell Valley American Legion Post 339 is on the lookout for bands which want to parade in Hopewell on Memorial Day. Any interested group should contact James Hall at 466-0653 or Thomas Fillebrown at 466-2266.

The post is also on the lookout for used paperback books. These will be shipped to servicemen in Vietnam.

Anyone who has books for donation may drop them off at the residence of Alston Hart, 25 Princeton Avenue, across from the Catholic Church. To arrange for pickup, call 466-2854.

APPLICANTS SOUGHT

For Lions Day Camp. The West Windsor Township Lions are accepting applications for their seventh annual day camp program. Mrs. Cynthia Dalton and Charles Herrick, assisted by junior counsellors, will supervise the Township children, grades two through eight, who enroll.

Arts and crafts, hiking, cookouts, dramatics and swimming are a few of the projects that will be covered in each of the three camp periods. Applications, available in the May West Windsor Newsletter or in the stores where posters are on display, must be filed before June 5.

FASHIONS ON DISPLAY

At Soroptomist Luncheon. The Soroptomist Club of Trenton will sponsor a luncheon and fashion show on Saturday at 12:30 at the Pine Brae Club, Route 518. Mrs. Irene Berglund will narrate the program as fashions from Niemonds Dress Shop are modeled by members of the club and the club's affiliate, Venture.

Modeling will be: Mrs. Mary Goeke, Miss Gertrude Hard, Mrs. Josephine Conover, Miss Merle Lloyd, Mrs. Esther Anderson, Mrs. Mary Wright, Mrs. Berry Hubsch and Miss Elethea Skodos. Also Venture girls: Miss June Metcalfe, Mrs. Rosalie Bender, Miss Dorothy Wriggins, Miss Mary Narkum and Miss Betty Hynde.

Miss Hard is general chairman of the show and Miss Helen Huston is aiding her as fashion coordinator. Assisting with arrangements are: Mrs. Adeline Knott, Miss Janetta Dawson, Mrs. Ethel Schlicher, Mrs. Elaine Seibert, Miss Theresa Rose, and Mrs. Esther Anderson.

FACULTY COUNCIL MEETS

To Oppose Vietnam War. Some 150 members of Princeton University's faculty have formed the Princeton Faculty Council on Vietnam. At its first meeting, the Council voiced its opposition to the Vietnam War.

The Council has no political affiliation. Its goal is to make its opposition to the war as clear and as effective as possible.

As a spokesman explained, the group wants "to promote and coordinate efforts by concerned faculty members toward de-escalation as a peaceful solution in Vietnam." The Council hopes to formulate a series of possible peace alternatives.

ANNUAL MEETING SET

For Community Council. Dr. Paul N. Ylvisaker, commissioner of the New Jersey Department of Community Affairs, will address the Council of Community Services next Wednesday. The Cranbury resident will explain to Council members and citizens, attending the Princeton Inn luncheon, how local agencies coordinate their activities with his department.

The Department of Community affairs was created to bring the resources of the state to community problems. The new office will deal directly with local officials to utilize their talents and experience in specific local problems.

New officers and board members of the Community Affairs Council will be elected at the annual meeting. Reservations may be made until Friday through Mrs. Nancy Gryz-

ANIMAL FAIR

$25 Raised. Fortune tellers and a puppet show, a go-fish pond and a make-up booth brought $25 to the Princeton Small Animal Rescue League Saturday.

The fair, held on the fairgrounds that used to be the back yard of the L. F. Newton home, 90 Dempsey, was arranged by a group of fifth graders, led by Julie Newton and Laurie Rubin.

Julie has a long record of affiliation with Mrs. A. C. Graves and the Small Animal League as a result of cats gone astray, lost dogs given a loving, if temporary, home and she was aware of the League's need for funds.

The fair was assembled with some adult help — the construction of baked goods and the volunteered services of William Brower, who did portraits — but mostly it was a fifth grade project.

"I am deeply touched," said Mrs. Graves.

ASSISTANT SELECTED

By Community Homemakers. Mrs. Stanley P. Tarr, a resident of Cranbury, has been named assistant to the executive director of Princeton Community Homemakers. She will serve under Mrs. Elizabeth Craig, executive director of the service.

Mrs. Tarr will be responsible for the training of new homemakers and the implementation of the Medicare program in which the Homemaker Service participates. She is currently associated with Peddie School.

Mrs. Tarr is a graduate of Harcum Junior College in Bryn Mawr. She has served as president of the Cranbury Women's Club and as a member of the Board of the Princeton Family Service.

HELP FOR SMALL ANIMALS: A cash-box containing $25 is presented to Mrs. A. C. Graves, president of the Small Animal Rescue League, by a trio of fifth graders who gave a fair on Saturday to benefit the League. (Left to right) Dana Bennett, Julie Newton, Mrs. Graves and Ellen Thomas. Mrs. Graves is holding a small animal named Pierre.

ESTONIAN CHOSEN

To Head International Festival. Mrs. A. J. Espinosa, a native of Estonia, has been chosen chairman of the YWCA's 1967 International Festival. The appointment of the Flemington resident to the post was announced at the first meeting of the festival committee.

Exhibits featuring foreign arts, crafts and foods will help illustrate the Festival's theme, "Join the Work World at the YWCA." Proceeds from the affair will go to YWCA workers in 75 countries.

The next meeting of the festival committee will take place this Thursday at 10 in the Avalon Place YWCA. Anyone interested in working on the Festival should attend the meeting or contact Mrs. Espinosa at the YWCA between 10 and 3 on Thursdays through June 15.

CAMP DATES LISTED

For Mercer Girl Scouts. Two camps Tamarack on Autumn Hill Road in Princeton and Wanda in Cream Ridge will hold sessions for Mercer County Girl Scouts this summer. One day camp session will be held Monday through Thursday, 9:30 to 3:30, from July 17 to July 27 while the other session runs from July 31 through August 10.

The cost is $15 for each Brownie and Junior per eight-day session with an extra $1.50 charge for each overnight stay. The cadette fee is $22 per eight day session. Seniors pay no fee.

Transportation to the camps will be by bus from several stops in Princeton. To register, contact the Mercer Girl Scout Council office, 939 Parkside Avenue in Trenton, or, to obtain further information, contact the Princeton neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Robert Westover, at 921 2494.

SOCIETY TO MEET

At Drumthwacket. The New Jersey Historical Society will hold its 11th annual dinner at Drumthwacket, the former Moses Taylor Pyne home in Princeton, this Thursday, May 25. Governor and Mrs. Richard J. Hughes are hosts for the evening affair, while John T. Cunningham, society president, is toastmaster.

Several awards will be presented at the meeting including one to Mrs. John Kean "for her distinguished contribution to New Jersey history." Mrs. Kean has been instrumental in the preservation of several old New Jersey mansions.

Dr. Richard A. Hogarty of Cranbury will receive an award for his article in "New Jersey History" on political conflict in New Jersey industry during the 1870's. Donald A. Sinclair, curator of special collections at the Rutgers University Library, will be named 1967 Fellow of the Society.

FOUR-YEAR-OLDS ASKED

To Summer School. All four-year olds in the Princeton Regional School district are invited to attend the new summer school session from July 5 to August 11 this year.

"Fours" must be four by October 31, 1967. Those who will be four by November 30, will be enrolled if there is enough room.

Parents may register their children through Mrs. Dorothea Lummis, John Witherspoon School, 924- 7071.

The summer program will be designed to screen youngsters for the four-year-old kindergarten that will be held during the school year, starting in September. It will not screen pupils for early admission to kindergarten or first grade.

If there is room after the summer screening process, some four-year-olds may be enrolled next fall if a nursery school teacher thinks a child needs the experience, if a public welfare agency thinks so, or if a major English language deficiency exists.

DIRECTORS NAMED

By Women Voters League. The Princeton League of Women Voters has appointed several members to one-year terms on its board of directors. They are: Mrs. Ronald Buhler, Mrs. Stephen Fairweather, Mrs. John R. Gillis, Mrs. Sheldon Hackney, Mrs. Gordon Mack, Mrs. Albert G. Marckwardt and Mrs. Peter Pattison.

Announcing the new appointments was League President Mrs. David Thomas. She also reported that Mrs. Carl Helm would complete the two-year treasurer's term.

The League has organized a study group to analyze legislative procedures. Members interested in learning more about the operation of the New Jersey Legislature attended the group's first meeting in the home of Mrs. Roald Buhler, 11 Scott Lane.

"IT WOULD RUIN US" says taxi driver Robert Black, in commenting on whether he would favor some kind of public transportation in Princeton. The question of public transportation was raised repeatedly at the first hearing last week on the Borough's new Master Plan. (Staff Photo)

Question of the Week

Question: Would you favor or be opposed to some kind of public transportation in Princeton?

Where asked: Palmer Square.

Jesse M. Matlack, Lawrenceville, teacher, The Chapin School: I would be in favor if there were a corresponding increase in places to park for people using such a service. I'm assuming the rationale behind such a service would be to help reduce traffic.

Mrs. John Fine, 112 Rollingmead, teacher: I'm very much in favor of mini buses. I think it's cruel and inhuman treatment for ladies living in Stanworth, for example, not to have public transportation. A good many of my friends would rather not take their cars into town if there was some other way to get in. I've been wanting something like this for 25 years. That's how long it takes to get something here. I've been waiting a swimming pool since 1942.

Earl Morman, Witherspoon Lane, graduate student, aerospace engineer: I think it would be a good idea — anything to help older people get around town and those who don't have their own transportation. I'm sure it would annoy the taxi drivers, though.

Robert Black, 45 Stanley Avenue, taxi driver for Blackie's Taxi: From a business standpoint, it would ruin us — there is no question about that. A woman isn't going to take a taxi to the shopping center if she can take a bus for 10 cents. It would force us to increase the local rates in order to survive. My other prime concern is their talking about taking traffic out of town — I-95 — and now they want to bring buses to fill in the void. It doesn't make sense. Traffic in town now is almost on a par with New York during prime time which occurs about four times a day. If people want smoke belching out of buses — that's another thing: air pollution.

Mrs. Elizabeth Zehnder, 100 Stockton Street, housewife: I think it would be great. A lot of women are stuck home without a car. Even if you did have a car it would be a lot easier to hop on a bus than fight the traffic. This would be especially helpful for older women and young married girls who don't have a car.

James Reed, Trenton, employee, Verbeyst Cleaners: I think it would be a good idea just because there isn't such a thing in town. Princeton's grown to the point where it needs this kind of transportation. A lot of people don't have cars to get to the hospital and the shopping center. It might be good for people who live out of town, such as in Blawenburg. I think this would be a very good thing for Princeton.

Mrs. Mary Lou Flynn, Butler Avenue, teacher: Personally, I don't think I'd use it. I have no need for it. If a private organization were to be in control, it might be worth a try, but I don't think it is needed, really. Everything is pretty central unless you go out to the shopping center. It would just be an added expense to the community.

Rick Davis, Cleveland Lane, student: It would be good for non-drivers such as myself, and especially for the elderly, to get around town. Also it would probably cut down on the amount of traffic because with public transportation people wouldn't have to use their cars during rush hours.

Bill Boothroo, The Great Road, Hun School sophomore: It'd be great! Kids wouldn't have to hitch-hike into town or wouldn't have to bother their parents — it would be good all the way around.

Shmuel Weiss, 47 University Place, associated with Princeton University: I think it would be a very good idea. It would be convenient for mmy wife to go to the shopping center and things like that.

Mrs. Kathleen Carroll, Lawrence Township, secretary for Laidlaw & Company. I'd be in favor. I think it's awful if we can't have public transportation in Princeton.

Miss Elba Burgos, Trenton, Princeton hairdresser: I think it would be a good idea, especially for youngsters and high school kids who sometimes don't have the money to provide their own transportation.

Mrs. Frieda Baoer, 29 Henry Avenue, employee, Management Planning Inc.: Yes, I think I would be in favor. The most important thing is not everybody has a car, not everybody can drive. Elderly people virtually depend on public transportation, if they don't want to impose on others all the time. How feasible it would be, I don't know. I don't think it would be profitable, but it would be very beneficial. Another thing: I believe if there were public transportation, it would relieve parents of driving their children around.

Jay Knepper, 223-A King Street, graduate student, chemical engineering: Definitely, yes, because building roads to accommodate more cars would only destroy the beauty of the town. Public transportation can carry an awful lot of people: it would take a tremendous amount of roads to get the same benefit. The only problem with public transportation is wheth

ARCHITECT CITED: Sherley Paul Drake, past president of the National Council of Architectural Registration Boards, for his distinguished service to the architectural profession. Mr. Morgan, director of Princeton University's School of Architecture from 1928 until 1952, has been given a life-time certification by NCARB.

Sherley Morgan, emeritus director of Princeton University's School of Architecture, was cited by the National Council of Architectural Registration Boards at their 46th annual convention in New York City. The award, the first of its kind given by NCARB, extends life certification to Mr. Morgan.

Mr. Morgan was commended for his service to the architectural profession and to NCARB, whose origin he endorsed in 1938. Since 1963 he has evaluated the credentials of more than 3000 architects as NCARB's special consultant.

A native of Cincinnati, Mr. Morgan was educated at Princeton and Columbia Universities. After World War I, he joined the Princeton faculty as an assisant professor from which post he rose to become director of the School of Architecture, serving from 1928 until 1952.

Two Princeton area students at Lake Erie College in Ohio were cited at the school's annual Honors Day Convocation. Susan J. Schnaitter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal K. Schnaitter, 123 Randall Road, was elected to Lake Erie's honor group, the Laurel Society. Pamela Hasenzahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Hasenzahl, 139 Randall Road, received the 1965 Achievement Award and a certificate of distinction for service as a faculty assistant.

Eleven Princeton area residents received degrees at the University of Pennsylvania's graduation ceremonies this week. Bachelor of arts degrees went to Constance Colman, 2 Campbelton Circle; David W. Hoyler, 183 Hamilton Avenue; Kathleen W. Sittig, 158 Mountain Avenue; Joan A. Wilhelm, 591 Lake Drive and Carol B. Evans, 87 Jefferson Road.

Victor Pan, 160 Ridgeview Circle, received a bachelor of science in engineering degree and Joyce H. Strovink, Brunswick Pike, received a master of science in education degree. Receiving a M.S. in engineering was Henry Tan of Crescent Avenue in Rocky Hill while a master of arts degree was given to Anita Hochster, 408-B Devereux Avenue, and a doctorate in philosophy to Doris M. Srinivasan, 103 Moore Street.

An honorary doctorate of humane letters was conferred upon Dr. Benjamin D. Meritt of 68 Westerly Road, a member of the Institute for Advanced Study. Former Princeton resident Dr. James A. Perkins, president of Cornell University, received an honorary doctor of laws degree.

Miss Kathryn Kilgore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kilgore of Pretty Brook Road, has won the Beatrice Daw Brown Poetry Prize at Vassar University. Miss Kilgore, a graduate of Miss Fine's School, was honored for her excellence in the writing of poetry.

Dr. James W. Cronin, professor of physics at Princeton University, and philosophy professor Dr. Gregory Vlastos have been elected to membership in the American Academy of Arts and Sciences. John Adams founded the international learned and scientific society in 1780.

Dr. Robert B. Hargraves, associate professor of geology at Princeton University, has received a N.A.T.O. fellowship for study abroad. He will spend the next academic year at the University of Munich in Germany.

John W. Beer of 38 Fairway Drive has been promoted to vice president by Drexel Harriman Ripley, Inc., members of the New York Stock Exchange. The Harvard graduate joined the firm in 1965, having previously been a vice-president of Fairmont Advisory Service of New York. He serves in the firm's home office in Philadelphia.

er there would be enough use to make it economically feasible.

Miss Cathy Otto, New Brunswick, legal secretary, Smith Stratton, Wise and Heher: I think it would be a good idea. It would be more convenient for people who don't own cars, certainly. I believe it would be better all around. Most towns have some sort of public transportation.

Ralph Nutter, employee, New Jersey Neuro Psychiatric Institute: I think this town does need something like that. I know they do have some buses going out to the shopping center but the ones they have never run on schedule. I'd even like to see public transportation out to NJNPI in Skillman where I work.

DISTINGUISHED CAREER

For Dorothea Greenbaum. This time it's Art from Princeton in New York which we feel should be given notice and appreciation. Dorothea Greenbaum of Princeton, sculptress and wife of Gen. Edward S. Greenbaum, (Town Topics' "Man of the Week" on April 27) has enjoyed nationwide recognition during a long and distinguished artistic carcer.

Many Princetonians are familiar with her work in Princeton shows, some have been privileged to see her sculpture in the delightful setting of her garden on Mercer Street, and a vast number of young and old have found pleasure in the figure, "Child With Bird," which is a charming permanent addition to the new Princeton Puhlic Library.

New York Exhihit. Until June 2, the Hirschl and Adler Galleries at 21 East 67th Street, New York, present Mrs. Greenbaum's 14th one man show, one which can truly be termed "definitive" with all her latest sculptures in bronze, plaster, lead and marble; large figure pieces, portrait heads, small figure and animal castings and drawings.

This whole selection creates n happy impression of vitolity and deep sensitivity based on firm knowledge of structure and technique, all highly disciplined. We overheard one viewer remark, and we were in agreement, "This kind of work takes a lifetime of intelligent application to produce."

SCULPTURE BY GREENBAUM: The familiar figure of the young girl in the Princeton Public Library comes frum the studio of Dorothea Greenbaum. The sculptor is now exhibiting in New York.

Biography Notes. Mrs. Greenbaum was born in New York in 1893 and her "lifetime of application" in sculpture began about 60 years later, after she had already been successful as a painter. (One of her paintings, "Nohska Light," was the first of three pieces of her work bought for the Whitney Museum of American Art Collection). In the late '20s during an illness, a friend of Mrs. Greenbaum's recommended modcling in clay as being "very relaxing," at which point she took up sculpture, never to leave it.

In 1935, with her good friend the late William Zorach, Mrs. Greenbaum became a founder-member of the Sculptor's Guild in New York, an organizatfon which provided a much-needed outlet for the exhihition of progressive sculpture. The Guild gave the first outdoor exhibition on Park Avenue and now flourishes with an indoor gallery on Madison Avenue.

In 1947, Mrs. Greenbaum was chosen as the U.S. Sculpture Delegate to the International Art Conference sponsored by UNESCO in Venice. She described this council as very interesting and very futile and it was never repeated on that scale.

Among her many commissions was a high velocity one done for the movie "David and Lisa" some years ago. This rush joh was performed hy herself, Robert Cook and Sydney Simon. The movie was already in production, the artists never saw the script, but they produced the well-remembered sculpture in two and a half days.

Small Pieces. We had never seen any of Mrs. Greenbaum's drawings before this show in New York and we found them delightful with her easy handling and characterization of birds and animals. The small figure pieces may seem slight in comparison with the more impressive large sculpture but they are, in their own way, eloquent in gesture and feeling.

These little ones, she says she works on "like knitting in the evenings." The animal castings are also amazingly articulate in strength and action.

Large Pieces. We admired the poise and concentration described in the "Girl with Flower" and anntber similar one, "With Bird," and we liked the tautness and bravura of the circus figures, but we were particularly interested in a new technique with hammered lead. "Broken Wing" is roundly sculpted, or hammered, into a poignant form, and one of the finest exhibits is a semi-relief called "Undressing," the figure in which has rhythm, color and grace. She knew what to emphasize and what to throw away and has produced a disciplined blend of subtelty and good strong design.

In 1947, Mrs. Greenbaum was awarded a grant from the august Academy of Arts and Letters. This is one of many tributes through the years, but we feel that its few well chosen words hold the essence of her life's work: "In recognition of sculpture of a high order reolete with a warm and sensitive appreciation of the human spirit."

SERIGRAPHS ON VIEW

At Gallery 100. The noted serigraphist, Norio Azuma, is exhibiting his new work at Gallery 100 during the next three weeks. The artist and his graphies bear interest to the public, but in preamble to its discussion, we wish to diverge a minute.

This show marks the last to be arranged by Betty Adams who, for four years, has given to the community through a consistently active gallery, a variety of good shows, some better than others, depending on your taste, but all of them chosen from an intelligent, thoroughly conscientious and natively artistic point of view. Indeed there has been variety from tapestries, portraits, landscapes, sculpture, collages, graphics and pottery, etc., and during this whole time the atmosphere of Gallery 100 has become increasingly inviting.

Looking over the roster of shows, we found one tendency towards Oriental Art which interested us. When mentioned to Betty Adams, she said, "I've always had a theory that the Oriental was the real natural artist . . . not thingy." She has given us the Oriental, plus the primitive, the realistic, the "thingys" and a lot more, and we want to thank her for it all.

Back to Azuma. Azuma's serigraphs have been on view here before in a dual show and, by popular demand, his prints have been kept in stock. These new ones are witness to a notoriety for his unique technique of printing serigraphs on canvas. And speaking of notoriety, two of these are in the White House Collection, "Thorne" and "Constructive Image," both quite typical of his approach.

One quickly realizes what a

DON'T BLOCK THE PATH

HARRIS

Occasionally, we bring you interior decorating hints, and here are some about furniture arrangement that a lot of people overlook.

There is nothing more disturbing (and painful) than walking through a living room and banging your shins on the sharp edge of a misplaced coffee table.

Remember that most rooms lead to somewhere else and you must have free movement within a room with clear access through it.

The furniture in too many rooms is arranged like an obstacle course. This does not mean that you should line all your furniture up against the walls. Actually it is very possible and not difficult to maintain all of the elements of good arrangement and still provide easy access through and within each room.

Don't block entrances and exits. Place chairs close enough for conversation but far enough apart to allow plenty of leg room.

Arrange coffee tables close enough to sofas and chairs to be useful but far enough away to permit free passage between the tables and furniture pieces.

And, many people make the mistake of using too large a dining room table in a small dinette so that when you try to sit down at the table, you find yourself pulling the chairs up against the wall. Better use a smaller table with larger extension leaves.

If you ever have trouble hearing while phoning long distance, please call the Operator.

If you dial long distance and the connection is so bad you can't carry on a conversation, let the Operator know. She'll see that you're not charged for the call, and get you a new connection. Should the trouble recur, telephone repair service will start tracking down the trouble. There may be literally thousands of miles of wire and cable, scores of switches, and dozens of relays to check. A big job.

Fortunately, these days you don't often have trouble hearing while phoning long distance. A few decades ago it was all too common. Remember the shouting?

Things have become much better—mainly because we are never satisfied. So we continually upgrade all the equipment involved.

We've developed better cables. And new microwave transmission is helping, too.

But you are still one of our best sources of information. So please let us know whenever our transmission is not up to snuff—whether you are calling long distance or locally.

CHRISTMAS CAME EARLY

For Tiger Lacrosse Team. Dominating the action in the crucial second half, after trailing 2-1 at the intermission, Princeton's lacrosse team completed a long climb back to the top of the ladder Saturday when it defeated Cornell at Ithaca, 7 to 5.

The Tigers, who had tumbled all the way to fourth place last season, thereby clinched the Ivy championship — marking the 11th time in the last dozen years that Princeton has finished in first place. Coach Ferris Thomsen said following the victory that the return to the top, combined with ability to end Cornell's string of 24 triumphs, "makes winning the 1967 title at least as satisfying as any of those we have taken before."

The contest was a perfect demonstration of the sports axiom that when two evenly matched teams meet, the one with the superior defense is the likely winner. Not only did the Tigers get a standout performance from Princeton resident Dick Reynolds in the goal but midfielders Marty Eichelberger and Bob Porter put such a clamp on Cornell scoring ace Tom Quaranto that he saw his four-goal per game average dwindle to zero.

Eichelberger guarded Quaranto so closely that he picked up four penalties, and would have been disqualified for a fifth, but the dent that his perseverance put in the Ithacans' attack paid a major dividend. The Tiger captain scored twice himself in the see-saw contest that was played on a muddy field before some 3,000 spectators.

Pettit's Return Welcome. Out for a month with a severe shoulder injury, Pepper Pettit, another Princeton resident, came back with a standout performance. It was his goal early in the third period that brought the Tigers even at 2-all, and he was in frequent evidence during the winning rally with a series of picturesque body checks.

Although the visitors scored three goals in the third quarter to one for Cornell, they were no better than 4-all when the Red counted on an extra-man situation at 6:49 of the final round. Then, within the space of 37 seconds, Eichelberger tallied on a feed from Al Keidel and passed to Dick Graham for a pair of goals that put Princeton in front to stay. Fine ball control, even when the Ithacans were a man long, assured ability to nail down the triumph.

Reynolds, with 18 saves to 9 for the Cornell goalie, was given credit by Thomsen for giving a "great performance." A junior, he seems assured of an All-Ivy rating this season.

Princeton's freshmen defeated the highly-regarded Army Plebes 7 to 6, at West Point Friday, finishing unbeaten with an 8-0 mark. Back on top in Ivy League, Thomsen admits he has designs on staying there but has no intention of breeding over-optimism during the off-season.

"We lose seven seniors who were starters on this year's team, including the entire defense," he pointed out. "When you have that many places to fill, you can call it a 'building year.'"

The sound that followed was remarkably close to that of a man trying unobtrusively to get his tongue out of his cheek.

BALL TEAM FINISHES 3D

In Eastern League. In a race marred by more cancellations by rain and cold than any within memory, Princeton's baseball team will apparently earn third place despite the fact that it will not top .500 overall for the season.

Five of the Tigers nine victories — aginst 11 defeats — were achieved in league action, and a 5-2 mark will land them behind Dartmouth and Army. If the Indians defeat Cornell at Ithaca Saturday, they will win their first league championship since 1938. They trounced Army, 9-1, at Hanover last weekend, the defeat ending a two-year stay at the top by the cadets since their rained-out game with Harvard has not been rescheduled.

Princeton's final league game was pelted off the record books by hailstones bigger than marbles which fell with the rain Friday at Ithaca. A May 6 contest with Yale was twice rained out after a second attempt to play it ten days later at New Haven.

On Saturday at Clarke Field, junior southpaw Steve Cushmore defeated a weak (5-9) Manhattan team, leading, 7-0, before the losers scored. A six-run third, during which ten men went to bat, and a two-run homer by Bob Weber were highlights of the Princeton attack. Weber's blow carried over the left field fence about 350 feet out.

A home and home series with Lafayette will complete the season, with the Tigers able to break even for the year if they win both contests. The first will be played here Saturday at 2, the second a week later at Easton.

CITED FOR RESERVE STRENGTH: In recognition of the usually forgotten man on the bench, Station WHWH and the Rotary Club of Princeton last week presented their first annual award to the player on the Princeton University basketball team "who over the past season provided the vital reserve strength when most needed." Sharing the first were seniors Robby Brown (he's the tall one) and Larry Lucchino. At right are Rotary president Cory Kammler and Herbert Uobler, president of WHWH. Lucchino, 21, has been elected graduate president of the Class of 1967. Brown, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Newell Brown, 52 Hartley Avenue, has been elected vice-president.

Sports In Princeton

ond place in the Eastern Tennis Association came Princeton's way Saturday when Coach John Conroy's team walloped Dartmouth, 8-1, at Hanover. The margin over the Indians, New England intercollegiate champions, was considerably higher than had been anticipated.

The Tigers lost only to unbeaten Yale. The Elis were aided somewhat by the fact that their rained out match with Penn was not rescheduled, but expectations were that they would have won had it been played.

Other Sports. The Princeton track team gave Yale a surprising chase down to the wire in Palmer Stadium last week, losing only when the Elis took the final event, the mile relay, by four seconds. The visitors won, 79 to 75.

Coach Pete Morgan's team also did better than expected at Ithaca before losing to powerful Cornell, 86-68. Injuries kept the squad below full strength throughout the season, during which it won only one of its six meets.

A 7-0 victory over Columbia and a 5-2 defeat of Harvard closed out the golfers' season with a 9-4 mark. The matches were played at Springdale.

PDS TOPS PEDDIE

Loses to Moorestown. Although it committed five errors, the Princeton Day School baseball team defeated the Peddie jayvees Friday, 5-2, behind the two-hit pitching of John Claghorn. Claghorn struck out nine.

The victory was the Day School's fourth against five setbacks. It will end its season Friday at home against the Hun School jayvees.

PDS scored three runs in the first inning Friday with the aid of errors. After the bases were loaded, an error by the Moorestown left fielder permitted two runs to score, and Craig Page came home with the third on an error by the catcher. Page had arrived in scoring position by stealing second and third. He leads the team in thefts by a wide margin with 17 in nine games.

Richard Ross's double, a passed ball and a wild pitch produced another run in the second inning. In the fifth, Tom Spain and Claghorn sandwiched singles around a wild pitch and an error for PDS's fifth run.

A single by Claghorn in the second and a single by Frank Andrews in the fifth were the only hits PDS could muster in losing, 6-1, to Moorestown earlier in the week. Claghorn, who was relieved by Page, took the loss.

Claghorn singled home Page in the second for the losers' only run. He and Bill Rigot lead the team in hitting.

STICKMEN LOSE, 10-3

To Peddie. For the second time this spring, the Peddie lacrosse team mastered the willing but punchless Little Tigers, Peddie won, 10-3, over the visitors who are still searching for their first win.

Paul Rice, the team's leading scorer — four the week before against Hun School — collected two of Princeton's three goals. Co-captain John Steiger was credited with the third.

The team will end its season Friday with Lawrenceville. The contest will be played at 4 nn the Little Tigers' home field at Community Park.

PHS DOMINATES TOURNEY

At Rider College. Princeton High School dominated the Mercer County High Schools' Tennis Tournament held during the weekend at the Rider College courts.

Scott Raaum and John Panzer won the doubles title by overwhelming Ray Pieslak and Steve Rome of Ewing, 6-0, 6-0. To reach the finals, Raaum and Panzer, the number two doubles team on coach Bill Humes' PHS squad, knocked off the number one PHS tandem of Bill Carroll and Ted Ford, again in straight sets. The scores were 6-1, 6-2.

In the final singles match, PHS captain Henry Sommers was defeated by Ewing's unbeaten Scott Stoner, 6-0, 7-5. Sommers was leading Stoner, 5-4, in the second match and needed only to hold his serve to win but he failed and Stoner ran out the match.

In the girls' division, the final for the doubles crown was all Princeton High. Isabel Sloan and Elizabeth Hoffman defeated schoolmates Carol Westoff and Karen Fitzpatrick in straight sets.

Princeton's Diane Holmbach won the singles championship. The girls are coached by Robert Orr.

PHS REPEAT VICTIM

Of Trenton Nine. Trenton High School's baseball team, 13-2 and in first place in the Mercer County league standings, had little trouble Thursday disposing of visiting Princeton High School. The Tornadoes won, 10-2.

The Little Tigers will enter their final week of activity with a chance to finish above .500 for the first time in three years. Friday, Somerville will travel to Princeton for a 4 p.m. contest. On Monday, PHS will be at Hunterdon Central and at Cathedral for its final on Wednesday.

Against Trenton, PHS tallied both its runs in the sixth one one hit. After an error and two walks had loaded the bases, Tom Wood, playing at first, singled home Rich Volz. Trenton hurler Jesse Brown (5-2) then walked Tom Butterfoss to force in the second run.

With the exception of the sixth, Brown was in control. He limited the Little Tigers to four hits with Thom Yoder, Jay Springer and Tom Graham getting the other three. Unfortunately, the losers also matched each hit with an error. Third-baseman Volz was charged with three of them.

Butterfoss took the loss, his second against one victory. He was relieved by Graham who pitched two and one-third innings. In his first appearance on the mound this season, the sophomore allowed two hits and two unearned runs.

MOOMAW, TINDALL WIN

At Conference Track Meet. Co-captain Dave Moomaw and Dan Tindall, superstar with the javelin, were the lone two Princeton High School track performers to win first places in Saturday's Greater Jersey Southern Division Conference Championship track meet held at Ewing High School.

Ewing, the defending champions and possessor of a squad of great depth, won the meet handily. The Blue Devils amassed 83 points to 42½ by runner-up Trenton. PHS was third with 33¾. Other schools participating were Hamilton, Asbury Park and Steinert.

Tindall hurled the javelin 205-9 for a meet record in that event. His throw bettered the previous record of 193-3 he set last year. PHS coach Gerald Groninger reported that Dan had a couple of throws measuring 220-225 feet in practice but was unable to match these when it counted. He described the conditions for the javelin as "not too good."

Moomaw won the 220 in 22.9 seconds, nosing out Ewing's speedster Charlie Williams, who took the 100 in 10.7. Moomaw placed third in the 100.

Princeton just missed another first when its top miler, Pete Michael, was edged by Ewing's Ray Brittan with a clocking of 4:36.7. Michael had defeated Brittan earlier in dual meet competition but had lost to him in the Jaycee Meet.

Others who scored for the Little Tigers were Keith Conover, second in the javelin; George Fifield, fourth in the 440; Matt Alexander, fifth in the high hurdles; Keith Lauder, third in the two-mile; Nelson Warner, second in the pole vault; Alan Moring, tie for fifth in the broad jump; and Ron McEwen, tie for fifth in the high jump.

In addition to Tindall's record, others were set in the two-mile, half mile, 440 and pole vault.

Trenton Shaded, 64-62. Thursday, PHS defeated visiting Trenton, 64-62, to raise its dual meet record to 5-3. One third place decided the outcome, as both first and second-place finishes were evenly divided, 7-7.

Tindall — javelin and discus — and Moomaw — 100 and 220 — were double winners for PHS. Michael won the mile over his arch rival from Trenton, Tommy Lee. The two have been waging a heated personal battle for two years.

John Ksoco captured the demanding two-mile in 10:23, his best time ever. Nelson Warner gave Princeton it's seventh first, taking the pole vault with a leap of 12-6.

Warner thus continues to better the old PHS mark in the vault set in 1956 by Winfield Niles Jr., son of Win Niles who was Groninger's predecessor. Niles' mark, which lasted 11 years, was 12-2½.

LAWSON WINS REGATTA

On Carnegie Lake. Jerry Lawson, 38 Marion Road West, and his son, Tom, a PHS junior, won the Invitation Regatta for GP 14 sloops held Saturday on Carnegie Lake. The Lawsons decisevly outscored 20 competing skippers.

In the first four of five races, Lawson compiled two firsts, a second and a third. He disqualified himself from the final race when his boat touched a leeward mark but his margin over the second boat was so great that he still won easily.

His victory was the first for a Carnegie Sailing Club skipper since 1962 when the annual event was established. No other Princeton boat finished in the top six.

The races were marked by 10-knot winds, gusting at times to 20-25 knots. Many boats using the newly-approved Genoa jibs — larger than the previously-approved working jib — were overpowered. Six capsized and had to be towed ashore by the Carnegie Sail Club rescue boat manned by Billy and Tom Hilton.

MAZZARELLA TOPS LOW HURDLES: Paul Mazzarella leaps the first low hurdle in meet with Trenton. He finished second with a clocking of 21.6. Under Paul's elbow is teammate Matt Alexander. Princeton won a squaker, 64-62.

THORNE PHARMACY WINS

To Take First Place. Thorne Pharmacy moved into first place last week in the West Windsor Little League with a 9-8 victory over Ellsworth A.C. Prior to the game the teams were tied for first with identical records.

Taking a 2-0 lead in the first inning, Thorne kept the pressure on Ellsworth, adding six runs before Ellsworth scored its first two. With the score 8-2 in the top of the last inning, Ellsworth came to life.

Mark Ellsworth's bases-loaded double paced a six-run inning that tied the score before relief hurler Gary Fowler ended the inning. Thorne's having seen its six run lead disappear, came back in he bottom of the inning with one run to salvage victory.

The week's action in other league games was disastrous for First National Bank as the Bankers dropped all three of their games. Edinburgh Hotel edged the Bank, 5-4, while Craft Cleaners downed the Bank twice.

Edinburg capitalized on the Bank's erratic defense to score its five runs on only three hits. Bill Wilson, helped by Mike Carlucci's fine glove-work, was credited as the winning pitcher.

Craft's first victory, a one-inning continuation of a previously-tied game, came when a batter, ducking a pitch, unintentionally bunted the ball and forced in the runner on third. Craft's second victory over the Bank was no contest as strong hitting paced Craft to an 18-3 win.

The standings:

Thorne Pharmacy	4	0	1.000
Ellsworth A.C.	3	1	.750
Edinburg Hotel	2	2	.500
Craft Cleaners	2	3	.400

DOGS GRADUATE

From Obedience School. The spring program of the Princeton Dog Training Club ended with a competition in the Princeton High School Boys Gym. Zehnia, a German Shepherd belonging to Mrs. Alice Bird of 186 Russell Road, walked away with first prize in Section I.

The Shepherd scored 198½ points of a possible 200. Mrs. Gregory Massell's Border Collie, Bonnie, scored 199 points to win first prize in Section II of the competition.

An Airedale won top honors in the Intermediate class. Michael, the first place dog, belongs to J. P. Rothschild of Titusville.

The largest dog to place was a St. Bernard winning second in Section I beginners, while the smallest was a Yorkshire Terrier that took second in the Section II beginners. Obedience classes will resume the third week in September.

HUN WINS KEY GAMES

In Penn-Jersey League. Two sterling back-to-back efforts by the Hun School last week thrust it into the forefront again for honors in the Penn-Jersey League.

HIGHER THAN EVER: Nelson Warner has pole vaulted higher this spring than any other PHS athlete before him. His vault of 12-6 against Trenton Friday bettered the old mark of 12-2½ set in 1956. He first broke the old record at the annual Jaycee Meet.

Should Hun win its finale Wednesday with Pennington it would tie Bryn Athyn at 7-3 for the league title. However, coach Sandy Bing pointed out that two of Bryn Athyn's defeats came at the hands of Hun—which may or may not mean anything when it comes time to determine the No. 1 team. Hun is the defending league champion.

In a must game with Bryn Athyn on Friday, Ken Kelly limited the home team to just one hit, as Hun posted a 4-0 victory. Kelly struck out 12 and drove in two of Hun's runs with a single.

Dick Mate drove in the other Hun runs. The lone hit off Kelly came in the final inning.

Two days earlier, Hiroshi Ueda limited home-team Perkiomen to just two hits as Hun defeated Perkiomen for the second time this spring, 13-4.

Don Silverson tripled and drove in five runs for Hun. Kelly homered and had four RBIs.

BOWLING NOTES

Leagues Wind Up. The Nassau League, the B League and the Women's League all concluded their seasons last week with roll-offs at the Princeton Recreation Lanes.

Cifelli Electric, which tied Tiger Garage in the last week for second-half honors, defeated Tiger in a roll-off. Since Cifelli had also won the first half, it was crowned champion of the Nassau League.

Balestrieri Contractors defeated Princetown Del, first-half winners, to finish on top in the B League. University Cleaners, second-half victors in the Women's League, needed only two matches to defeat the first-half winners, Irene's Day Nursery.

The Schafer Tournament, limited to those who posted the highest single game in each month, was run off last week. For the men, Jack Lucey, whose 269 was the high game for November, won with a 221. Higest single game for the men all year was Bob Cifelli's 289 in April.

For the women, Helen Tamasi won with a 195. Her 196 was high for October. Barbara Gilliland's 223 in December led the list.

In the lone League still active, Tom Wood rolled a 169 in the Blue Angels loop. Ken Grob had 167 and Randy Cox and Jim Silvester each 160.

With two weeks to go, Taps has 38 points and the league lead. Hi-Lo's trail with 30, followed by King Pins and Ex ports, both 26.

The Summer Mixed League started last week. High scores among the women were Shirley Cashill's 193; Marg Davison's 180; Ann Shinn's 179; and Dail Forsyth's 176.

Jack Lucey rolled a 223 203. Fred Procaccini had 222. Val Ranallo 212, Sandy Forsyth 205, and George Kirby, 201.

An alumnus of Notre Dame High School, Mr. Fiabane will study for a master of science degree in geography after graduating, Phi Beta Kappa, from Rutgers University on May 31.

James R. Kerney, 65 Palmer Square, and E. Bloxom Baker, 142 Mercer Street, have received playing insignia for Princeton University's 1966-1967 hockey season. Mr. Kerney was a junior member of the varsity team that placed fifth in the Ivy League with five wins and five losses while Mr. Baker skated for the junior varsity.

Elric J. Endersby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elric G. Endersby, Province Line Road, placed third in the Trinity College Library Associates Student Book Collection contest. The junior was honored at the college's 18th annual Honors Day ceremony in the campus chapel.

Miss Linda Eicher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Eicher, 396 Terhune Road, has received the sophomore prize in English literature at Lebanon Valley College. Miss Eicher was one of 52 students cited for scholarship and citizenship at the Pennsylvania school's Service of Recognition.

Jack Lanning, 6 Jeffrey Lane, Princeton Junction, is the new national sales manager of the soon-to-be-published "Merit Students Encyclopedia." A resident of Princeton for four years, Mr. Lanning will leave the Macmillan, Inc. School Department where he was eastern regional manager, for his new post with Crowell Collier and Macmillan.

Edward J. McCabe Jr., 315 Herrontown Road, has been hired by the Phidadelphia office of Drexel Harriman Ripley, investment bankers. The Princeton resident will be associated with the Institutional Trading Department of the brokerage firm.

Two Wells College seniors from Princeton, Miss Barbara Brauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brauer of 242 Ridgeview Road, and Miss Margaret Morse, daughter of Mrs. Wilbur Morse Jr. of 120 Prospect Avenue, will graduate at Wells' 99th commencement on Monday. Miss Brauer, an English major, has been active in the college athletic association. Miss Morse will graduate with honors after completing her four-year college course in three years.

An Air Force ROTC grant has been awarded to Charles P. Schafer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Schafer of 26 Braeburn Drive. A member of the Princeton High School Class of 1964, he is a junior in the School of Pharmacy at the University of Georgia.

PRESIDENT NAMED

By Vassar Club. Mrs. Peter Carter, 280 Russell Road, has been elected president of the Vassar Club of Central New Jersey. Mrs. Carter, who will serve for two years, succeeds Mrs. Tristram Johnson in the position.

Mrs. William Lifland was also re-elected treasurer for another two-year term. The two elections highlighted the Club's annual meeting in the home of Mrs. Sydnor Penick.

The names of five Princeton girls who will attend Vassar as freshmen next fall were announced to the membership. They are Miss Susan Anable, Miss Susan Connelly, Miss Margaret Somers, all of Princeton High School; Miss Nancy King of Ethel Walker School and Miss Barbara Newman, Miss Hall's School.

The girls, together with the three area girls already enrolled at Vassar, will share the proceeds from next fall's Scholarship Ball. Receiving money from last year's ball, some $2500 in all, were Miss Maja Basioli of Trenton, Miss Mary Beth Wynn of Trenton and Lenore Gurin of Princeton Junction.

Mrs. Joseph Bachelder III announced that the date for the 1967 Ball will be Saturday, October 21. Providing music in the Princeton Day School will be Ben Cutler and his orchestra.

INSTALLATION HELD

By Hadassah. The Princeton Chapter of Hadassah installed officers for the coming year at a meeting Wednesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Miller, 455 Prospect Street.

Raymond Carter II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Carter of 604 Kingston Road, has been promoted to Army private pay-grade E-2 after finishing basic training at Fort Dix. Pvt. Carter, a 1965 graduate of Princeton University, received the promotion two months earlier than is customary, under an Army policy providing incentives for outstanding trainees.

Those who began new terms include: Mrs. Ralph Heymann, president; Mrs. Benjamin Panzer, vice-president for membership; Mrs. Melvin Schulman, vice-president for education; Mrs. Seymour Bogdonoff, vice-president for fund raising; and Mrs. Harold Staras, vice-president for program. Also: Mrs. Milton Horowitz, program co-chairman; Mrs. Roberta Morse, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert Vichnevetsky, financial secretary; Mrs. Martin Rome, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Israel Hedweil, treasurer.

TWO TEAMS WIN TWICE

In Business Softball League. Accelerator and RCA Labs A both won a pair of games last week in the Business Softball League. Because a large number of games remain unreported, no standings are available for publication.

Accelerator edged ETS, 6-4, in its first game last week behind Jack Bartow's winning pitching as Barry Hibbs had a three-for-four performance that drove in three runs. Bartow weighed in with a single, double and two rbi's.

Two days later, McGraw-Hill was a 6-5 victim of Accelerator, Bartow again picking up the victory. Hibbs had another three-for-four evening, while Joe Frangipani contributed a double and a home run. For McGraw-Hill, John Spinka had three hits, one of them for the distance.

RCA A began the week by humbling its counterpart, RCA B, 19 to 4, and followed with a 9-7 triumph over Hopewell TV. In the first game, Max Hopkins was the winner, aided by a four-for-four performance by Wally Reichert, including two doubles. Bill Proccino of the B team also had a perfect night with three hits.

Reichert was the winning pitcher in the Hopewell TV game, again hitting well with three safeties and two runs batted in. Two double plays by RCA also made a difference in the close contest.

In other action, American Cyanamid split, defeating Opinion Research, 26 to 0, but losing, 7-2, to Columbian Carbon. In the one-sided triumph over ORC, Cliff Maurer and Neil Speigelmeyer each made four hits. The winning Columbian Carbon hurler was Bill Gahagen, for whom Jim Sheldon's third-inning triple was the big blow.

EMR also divided a pair of games, outslugging ERC, 18 to 10, but yielding a 16-2 decision to the Telephone Workers. RCA Astro hammered out a 34-8 conquest of FMC, surpassing the total of 32 that McGraw-Hill had run up in an earlier victory over FMC. McGraw-Hill, loser to Accelerator in one of its games last week, held to the break-even point with a 6-0 shut out of National Computer Analysts.

For the victors in that contest, Tom Wood hit two singles, a double and a home run, while Joe Simone chipped in with a single and a pair of doubles. Bob Decibus and Bob Lo Presto shared the mound for the winners, allowing only six scattered hits.

FOUR TEAMS CHOSEN

For NCAA Baseball. Rider, Ithaca, Penn State and St. John's were selected this week to take part in the annual NCAA District II Baseball Tournament, which will be staged in Princeton next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 1-3.

The double-elimination tournament will be played on Clarke and Strubing Fields, site of the regional event for the past four years. The winner will enter the College World Series, held to determine the national champion, the following week in Omaha.

In the opening round on Thursday, the first game at 1 o'clock will send St. John's (20-4) against Penn State (15-6.) St. John's is the Met Conference champion, having defeated both Seton Hall and L.I.U. in a playoff last weekend, as well as the defending District II champion. The Redmen placed fifth in the eight-team field last year at Omaha.

In the nightcap next Thursday at 4, Rider (27-6) will take on Ithaca (16-2). Rider was an entry in the tournament four years ago, when it was a no-hit victim of Penn State, and in 1965, when it was upset by Princeton in the last inning. That was the year when the Tigers led Lafayette in the District II final, only to lose in the top of the ninth.

A participant in 33 contests despite the abnormally cold, wet spring, Rider is as good a bet as any to win three straight games and head for Omaha. The Broncs are deep in pitching strength, an essential factor in a tournament in which each team must be defeated twice before it is eliminated.

Winners and losers of Thursday's games will meet Friday at 1 on Clarke and Strubing Field, respectively, with the survivors then facing each other at 4. Final action will begin Saturday at 1, with a second contest between the same two nines set for 4 o'clock in the event neither has lost twice by that time.

If rain interferes, the action will continue over into Sunday. Not counting the possibility of ties at the end of the ninth, a minimum of 54 innings will be played before the champion is decided.

TRYOUTS SATURDAY

For Police Baseball League. The Princeton Patrolman's Benevolent Association will again sponsor a baseball league open to all boys 9-12 in the Princeton Regional Schools.

Tryouts for the eight-team league will be held Saturday at nine and the following Saturday, June 3, at Marquand Park. Applications will be available at the park on both mornings.

PHS NINE WINS, 3-0

And Loses, 3-0. The up-and-down Princeton High School baseball team was down Tuesday when Steinert limited it to three hits in winning, 3-0. It was up Monday as Tom Wood two-hit visiting Hamilton for a 3-0 Princeton victory.

At Steinert, Thom Yoder struck out six and was touched for only four hits, but four Little Tiger errors and a couple of wild pitches added up to three unearned runs for the home team. In the fifth, following a single and a wild pitch, PHS shortstop Dave Drake was charged with a fielding and throwing error on the same play to send home the game's first run. A second wild pitch and another single in the same frame accounted for another run.

Yoder picked up the loss, his first against no wins. The loss dropped the Little Tigers to the .500 mark again (7-7) and in losing at Steinert they preserved their dubious record of not having won on the road this season.

Wood picked up his sixth win — he owns all but one of Princeton's triumphs this spring — in overpowering visiting Hamilton with his two-hitter. He has lost four.

The Blue and White tallied all its runs in the first inning. A walk to leadoff batter Yoder, Rich Volz's double — the game's only extra base blow— and a Hornet error on a relay produced the first run. Tim Haigh and Tom Butterfoss singled home the second and third runs.

Netmen Split. Coach Bill Homes' tennis squad defeated Ewing Tuesday for the second time this season, but by a much narrower margin. This time the Little Tigers won, 3-2.

The doubles team of Scott Raaum and John Panzer, elevated to the number one ranking, won, as did Ted Ford and Bill Carroll. Ted Fritsch won his singles match to assure PHS of victory.

On Monday, PHS was stopped cold by a strong Peddie team. In losing, 5-0, the Little Tigers did not take a single set in any match.

Trackmen Win Easily. Limit ing visiting Hamilton to three first places in 14 events, the PHS track team coasted Monday to an easy 86-40 victory. "We had good times and good distances," said coach Gerald Groninger.

John Kosco lowered the PHS school mark in the two mile with a fine 10:11 effort. Dave Moomaw won the 100 and 220 and Matt Alexander finished first in both hurdle events. Hutch Smith and Pete Michael won the half-mile and mile.

Charlie Madden captured the discuss for the first time with a toss of 120 feet and Doug Van Doren took the shot with a 48 feet plus effort. Dan Tindall won his speciality the javelin with a toss of 205 feet — for him a ho-hum effort.

Missing Your Golf Shoes?

Borough police report they have in their possession a pair of Ben Hogan golf shoes found Friday on Mercer Street.

The owner can claim them by coming to headquarters, 50 Stockton Street, and identifying the color and size.

Ready for the long weekend?

Here's the golf shoe guaranteed to take 3 shots off your game!

(Uhhhhh, well . . .)

Mulligan golf shoes are made for your feet, not your ego.

Mulligans won't make you a U.S. Open champion. But they will make the difference in how your feet feel after four miles around 18 holes.

How? Mulligans have a flexible spike support in the sole. Makes them ready for play right out of the box. No break-in period! And the sole is vulcanized on—not stitched on—to help keep them waterproof. And they're made with top-grain leather inside and out—to keep your mind on strokes instead of steps.

We have Mulligans on display. But they really belong on the course. On your feet.

News Of The CHURCHES

VACATION SCHOOL SET

By Princeton Churches. Westerly Road Church and the three Presbyterian churches in Princeton have announced vacation Bible Schools. A junior day camp is also announced.

Westerly Road Church has planned a program of Bible study, crafts, filmstrips and recreation for the two week period beginning June 26. Classes will be held from 9 to 11:30 a.m. for age 3 to teens. Information on registration and transportation may be obtained by calling 924-5398 or 924-4231.

A Vacation Church School for children of pre school age through grades 1 and 2 will be held from June 19 to June 30 by the Presbyterian churches. Emphasis throughout the ten sessions will be placed on helping children to think about others, to learn from and help each other. In addition to Bible study, there will be activities in music, crafts and recreation.

The Presbyterian school will be held from 9 to 11:30 a.m. Tuition is $2 per child, not to exceed $5 per family. The deadline for registration is June 11, with registrars available in the three churches on two Sundays, June 4 and 11. Early registration is asked, to facilitate meeting teaching needs.

HOSPITAL CHAPLAIN: The Rev. C. George Fitzgerald, first full-time chaplain at Princeton Hospital, will be the guest minister at 10:30 this Sunday in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Twenty-six churches are backing the chaplaincy, a major experiment in inter-faith cooperation in which the hospital, Princeton Seminary and the Princeton Pastors' Association are all vitally interested.

The Junior Day Camp, sponsored by the Princeton Pastors' Association, is scheduled from June 19 through 30 on the grounds of All Saints' Chapel, Van Dyke Road, for youngsters who have completed grades 3 through 6.

The program of Bible study, crafts and games will be directed by Andrew Grannel of Princeton Seminary, assisted by Marian Rian, a Princeton High School senior. Sessions will be held from 10 a.m. until 3. Registration, at $5 per child, may be made through First Presbyterian Church.

PRE-TEENS ARE TOPIC

Of Panel Discussion. The second in the panel discussion series, "Parents and Changing Values," will be held at 8 p.m. this Thursday at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The Church and Society Commission is sponsor.

The discussion will center on problems concerning children of junior high school age. Panelist are Mrs. Ruth Lotz, Witherspoon School guidance counselor; William Kight, student assistant at St. Andrew's and former manager of The Tomb at First Presbyterian Church, and two Princeton High School students. Thomas Seradarian, head of the PHS guidance department, will be moderator.

The public is invited to attend.

THE EPISCOPAL MINISTRY in the Hightstown, Cranbury, Princeton Junction, West Windsor and nearby areas will be discussed Sunday at a 6:30 p.m. covered dish supper and meeting in the cafeteria of the Cranbury Public School. Planners include (from left) the Rev. E. Rugby Auer of Trinity Church, Mrs. Priscilla Baxter, Mrs. Marion Andrews, the Rev. Harry I. Lauer of All Saints' Chapel and Dr. George H. Rohrbacher. All interested adult Episcopalians are invited to attend. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Andrews, 395-0686.

TO HEAR DR. BRISTOL

Lord Nelson Mass Set. Dr. Lee H. Bristol, president of Westminster Choir College and vestryman of Trinity Episcopal Parish, will preach at the 9 and 11 a.m. services this Sunday in All Saints' Chapel, Van Dyke Road.

Hayden's "Lord Nelson Mass" will be presented as an integral part of the 11 a.m. communion service by the choir and 13-piece orchestra under the direction of Miss Barbara Beissel, music director of St. Mary's Hall, Burlington.

CONFESSION OF 1967: Professor Edward A. Dowey of Princeton Seminary served as chairman of the United Presbyterians' study committee that prepared the "Confession of 1967," adopted without change in wording at Monday's 179th General Assembly in Portland, Ore. The confession, first major doctrinal change in Presbyterianism since 1647, requires United Presbyterians to work for peace, racial integration and the elimination of poverty.

Soloists will be Irene Moore, soprano; Kathi Wallick, alto; Jerry LeDoux, tenor and Harry Mernagh, bass. The Rev. Harry I. Lauer Jr., vicar, will be assisted during the communion service by the Rev. A. Orley Swartzentruber, assistant, and the Rev. Kenneth R. W. Brewer, deacon from the diocese of Canberra and Goulburn, Australia.

OUTDOOR SERVICES BEGIN

At Jewish Center. Weather permitting, the Friday evening services at the Princeton Jewish Center will be held out of doors beginning this week and continuing through June, Rabbi Everett Gendler has announced. The hour of worship has been changed to 7:45 p.m. "Channeling Our Children" is the title of Rabbi Gendler's sermon. "On this Shabbat — the week after Armed Services Day and the week before Memorial Day — it seems appropriate to consider in some depth the effects a continuing Selective Service System has on the lives of our children," Rabbi Gendler writes in the Center bulletin. "Most helpful in this respect is the official memorandum from the Selective Service Orientation Kit entitled 'Channeling.' Its contents will, I am sure, increase our understanding of the purposes and effects of Selective Service."

Hostesses this Friday will be Mrs. Henry Abrams, Mrs. Bernard Miller and Mrs. Sanford Zeitler.

DR. HITZROT ELECTED

By Waldensian Group. The Princeton Chapter of the Waldensian Aid Society named Dr. Lewis H. Hitzrot president at the 52nd annual meeting last week.

Also elected to serve during the coming year are Mrs. Earl Douglas and Mrs. Minot Morgan, vice-presidents; Mrs. Charles L. Groom, treasurer, and Mrs. Roland Mains, secretary.

Directors elected are Charles L. Groom, Mrs. Shirley Morgan, Mrs. Charles R. Erdman Jr., Mrs. Lefferts Loetscher, Mrs. Charles Fritsch, Mrs. Charles Fritsch, Mrs. Theodore Sorg, Mrs. Elmer Homrighausen, Mrs. L. B. Webster and the Rev. Dr. William L. Tucker.

Mr. Groom presided at the meeting, which also featured a talk by the Rev. Dr. J. Carter Swain of the Church of the Covenant, New York. Mrs. Loetscher was chairman of the nominating committee.

The Waldensian Aid Society assisted the Waldensian Church of Florence, Italy, last January. The Society was founded to aid the Protestant Waldensian churches in Italy.

BAPTIST DELEGATE: The Rev. Dr. Kenneth L. Maxwell has been elected one of the nine delegates who will represent the Americao Baptist Convention at the July assembly of the World Council of Church in Upsala, Sweden. Now a member of the Rutgers faculty, he served the National Council of Churches for more than 10 years as head of the International Affairs Commission.

perfectionist this artist is, ascetic, deliberate, and wholly serious. Everything, including the framing, is beautifully organized and executed.

His titles (Images 2 and 5, A and B, Constructive or Impressive) seem unimportant to us, though perhaps due to a lack of understanding on our part, but it is the studied arrangement of the flat shapes and the fascinating results of the actual printing process which stretches our imaginations. The textures of his usually grey background looks like watered silk or grainy wood, mottled or earthy.

In context there is strict simplicity and clarity, all very tonal with occasional bits of lightened color which punctuate his design. These are totally abstract pictures, philosophical exercises, and as examples of modern, Orientally-influenced graphics they do justice to Mrs. Adams' final show at Gallery 100.

$57 FOR A $110 SUIT.

WOULDN'T YOU THINK THERE WAS SOMETHING WRONG WITH IT?

Well there isn't. Aunt Abigail's only sells perfect and current coats, suits, dresses and ensembles. All of which are made by a very famous manufacturer whose clothes are shown by the most exclusive Fifth Avenue stores.

Aunt Abigail's regularly sells this fine maker's $110 suit for $75, but we're having a sale and so you get an additional 25% off! Which means that you get a $110 suit now for only $57, a $90 coat for $45, a $33 dress for $16.50.

You enjoy a similar saving on every pure wool garment in our stock. And what an assortment. Flannels, tweeds, monotones, checks, herringbones in coats, suits, dresses and costumes. In sizes 6 to 16.

Aunt Abigail's is open from 10:30 to 5:30, six days a week (closed Mondays). It's at 41 Mine Street, Flemington, New Jersey (opposite Stangl Pottery).

Cancelling his original request to have his rental listed twice, the advertiser wrote, "The response was fantastic — I received 25 replies within three days after publication."

We don't claim to bring fantastic results for everything advertised in TOWN TOPICS, but even the odd ones generally bring calls. One man reported all the leads he wanted to a source for ground-dwelling bumble bees, and another had his choice when he asked for a used dog house. Never did say whether it was for himself.

Your ad goes into more than 18,000 homes and costs only $1.25 for the first 20 words. Call 924-2200 any weekday from 9 to 5.

AS BIG AS

A MOUSE'S EAR

According to an old Indian saying, the time to plant corn and other tender plants is after the oak leaves are as big as a mouse's ear. If the Indians are right, it is now safe to plant fushia, vinca, impatiens, heliotrope and all other bedding and vegetable plants. Besides the above items, our wide selection includes 20 varieties of petunias, 10 named irises, patted lilies, ferns, wildflowers, groundcavers, terrace trees, dwarf evergreens, rock garden gems and over 75 varieties of perennials.

Well-cared for home in choice, convenient Boro location. Living room, dining room, kitchen, paneled playroom, screened porch, 4 bedrooms, 2½ baths. $13,500

One of Lawrenceville's historic houses which reference indicates was built circa 1720-30. Stucco over stone construction. Spacious entrance hall, double living room with two fireplaces, dropped dining room with beautiful scenic wallpaper done from French plates (similar paper has been used in Washington, D.C. by the Fine Arts Commission), modern butler's pantry and kitchen, powder room. Second floor has a master suite consisting of a library, bedroom and bath; three additional bedrooms and bath. Beautiful fireplaces with hand-carved mantels. Full basement. Paddock swimming pool and 9-hole golf course. Oversized 3-car garage with apartment overhead of living room, kitchen, 2 bedrooms, bath. $175,000

Looks can be deceiving! No one could possibly imagine the amount of space there is in this Colonial split level in the Riverside area. Five bedrooms, three full baths, living room with fireplace, separate dining room, den, modern kitchen, laundry room, attached garage. The yard is filled with flowering trees and fenced for privacy. Completely air conditioned. Sole agent. $55,000

A large listing of town and country properties in all price ranges.

The GREATEST . . . BEST . . . FASTEST . . . How many times have you seen and heard these words in ads selling service . . . we admit, we've used them ourselves. But we have found that you can't sell a service with superlatives! We simply say that we think our TV Repair Service is merely better than adeqnate . . . it's only GDOD.

We have trained, competent technicians with years of experience in their profession to back that statement.

And most of all, we have many satisfied customers . . . which is, after all, our ultimate goal!

SURE, THERE ARE BETTER HOUSES: Bigger, shinier, plusher (and more expensive), but we don't know of anything more livable for a small family in the 20's. Built eight years ago of painted cedar shakes, it contains a living room with fireplace, dining room which opens to a breezy screened porch. Well-equipped kitchen has formica cabinets. Paneled den with adjacent lavatory. 3 bedrooms and 2 full baths upstairs. Dry cellar and two car garage. Attractive country location just west of town. $27,500

A HOME FROM HOME AT HOME: A quiet retreat that will make every day seem like a stolen weekend. Stunning master suite in the contemporary manner has been added to a traditional Garrison colonial with an unusual floor plan. 4 bedrooms and 2½ baths altogether. High ceilinged living room with fireplace, large dining room, study, playroom, kitchen, laundry. 2 car garage. Newly on the market. $36,500

LIKE HOTCAKES: when this beautiful piece of land (once the heart of one of Princeton's loveliest estates) was developed some years ago, the houses were sold with astonishing speed. Since then, very few have been available for resale, so we are particularly pleased to be able to offer this fine two story on one of the more desireable half acre lots. Living room with fireplace and wall of windows opens off foyer. Rear dining room. Fully equipped kitchen with large breakfast area. Laundry-mud room, family room overlooking back yard. 4 bedrooms and 2 baths on second. Many windowed basement could easily be converted to many uses. Carpeting and central air-conditioning. 2 car attached garage. $59,500
